Dr. Mitchell Being Demoted By U of N

Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell is to be relieved as chairman of the agricultural economics department at the University of Nebraska, Dean W. V. Lambert of the College of Agriculture announced late Monday.

Dean Lambert's statement said a successor to Dr. Mitchell in the post was being sought by the University, and that when Dr. Mitchell returns from a leave of absence in June he will resume his position as full professor of agricultural economics, a position the economist had held in addition to his chairmanship.

Protest May Be Made By Ag Students

A student move was reported gaining momentum Monday evening to draft and circulate a vote of confidence petition supporting Dr. Clyde Mitchell, demoted head of the Ag Economics Department of the University of Nebraska.

The move was reported spearheaded by agriculture students who have studied under Mitchell.

One College of Agriculture senior, who declined to give his name for fear of reprisal from the administration, said Dean Lambert's statement was a "meticulous form of hedging."

It conflicts with statements released last week by the University, he said, which disputed the report that Mitchell had been demoted.

All "Unhappy"

He said he had talked to about a dozen ag students by phone and several had called him. All were "unhappy" over the situation, he said.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see a formal protest petition on the campus in a day or so," he commented.

He said he understood that some students will meet Tuesday morning to draft a petition which will state that "Dr. Mitchell was doing a very good job, and he is one of the best instructors on the campus."

Club Votes Support

It was also learned that the Ag Ec Club, composed of 32 College of Agriculture members, had voted by voice last Thursday to circulate a petition endorsing Dr. Mitchell as an instructor.

With the announcement of Mitchell's demotion, it was said that the club considered strengthening the petition to seek the reasons why Mitchell was ousted.

A spokesman for the club said the general feeling of the students who know Mitchell, with what information is known, is that he had been done an injustice.

He continued that Mitchell is "highly regarded" on the ag campus.

The group, he said, planned to circulate a document described by him as a "vote of confidence" for the professor.

Temperatures in the state were expected to continue cool after Sidney recorded a low of 29 degrees Monday for the lowest reading in the nation, according to the Weather Bureau.

The highs for Tuesday were to be in the 40s.

Monday's highs were generally in the 40s ranging from 30 at Norfolk to 44 at Imperial.

Wednesday was to be partly cloudy but warmer, with scattered showers likely in the northwest and north central.

decrease in salary for Dr. Mitchell, the assistance of the members of the faculty of the Department of Agricultural Economics and with the concurrence of the University administration is now seeking a replacement for Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell as chairman of the department and chairman.

The Nebraskan, student newspaper, had reported that agricultural economics faculty members were told Dr. Mitchell was to be replaced because of "outside pressures."

The agricultural economist had previously come under fire by some state farm groups for his views on the nation's farm program, but the University's Board of Regents subsequently backed Dr. Mitchell with a statement on "academic freedom."

In his Monday statement, Dean Lambert said:

"The College of Agriculture, with cultural economics, and Dr. Mitchell has been so apprised.

"Two candidates for the position have been interviewed in my office, and our search for the right man continues. When a candidate has been selected he will be recommended to the Chancellor and the Board of Regents in the usual manner.

"Dr. Mitchell is currently in Rome as a Fulbright lecturer. He is on leave of absence from the University. I expect him to return to the campus about June 14 and resume his duties as professor of agricultural economics.

"My decision does not involve his prerogatives or responsibilities as a citizen and as a University faculty member. My attitude on these matters is a public record.

The decision to seek a new chairman was determined solely by my desire to strengthen the research and extension programs in agricultural economics."

NU Regents, contacted Monday evening, had little or no comment on the announcement.

Regent J. LeRoy Welsh of Omaha said the move "was entirely the dean's action" and the matter had not come before the board.

C. Y. Thompson of West Point, when asked if outside pressure was involved, said, "As far as I'm concerned personally, nobody tried to pressure me." He said the matter had not been presented before the board.

Dr. B. N. Greenberg of York, and Frank Johnson of Lexington said they knew nothing of the action or its reasons. Both preferred not to comment.

Board president Dr. Earle Johnson of Grand Island is in Arizona and was unavailable for comment.

Co-Worker Saw Change In Nancy

Unusual Behavior Of Victim Told To Parker Murder Jury

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A co-worker of Nancy Parker testified Monday that she noticed a change in her behavior during the "last few weeks" before Mrs. Parker's strangled body was found Dec. 14.

The witness was Mrs. Opal Closner, associated with the young Mrs. Parker at the Gooch Milling and Elevator Company in the preparation and testing of recipes distributed by the firm.

Mrs. Closner told the jury hearing the first-degree murder trial of Darrel F. Parker that his wife during the late weeks before her death was not turning out work comparable to that she had done earlier.

The defense objected to the line of testimony but it was admitted by Trial Judge John Polk as proper examination of the witness. Judge Polk recessed the spectator-packed trial until 2 p.m. Tuesday and excused the jury until then.

'Confession'

Defense Atty. Max Towle told reporters that "procedural matters" will be taken up with the court Tuesday morning in connection with Parker's "confession," its admissibility in the trial, and the manner in which it was obtained.

Some testimony dealing with these manners may be presented to the trial judge with the absence of the jurors, he said.

This may mark the first court room appearances of Chicago Criminologist John E. Reid and Dr. Douglas M. Kelley, University of California criminologists.

In Monday's testimony, Mrs. Closner said Nancy was "making lots of mistakes" and there was "no comparison" with her earlier neatness and accuracy.

Snapped Fingers

"She seemed to have a lot on her mind," Mrs. Closner said. "Once I snapped my fingers while Nancy was staring out the window and asked her what she was thinking about."

Mrs. Closner also related an incident at the Closner home between Darrel and Nancy concerning a covering for their dinette table.

Darrel brought a covering out, but Nancy "didn't like the colors" and told Darrel she would pick one (a covering) up herself."

Mrs. Closner said Nancy lunched at the Closner home both days prior to her death, going to the Parker house during the noon hour only to feed the puppy.

In other testimony, Mrs. Closner said she tried to phone Nancy at 7:50 and 8:10 a.m. at the Parker home, but obtained no answer on the fatal day. A call at 12:30 p.m. was answered by police.

Harmony

A Park Department employee who knew the Parkers socially testified there was "no evidence of marital discord" between Darrel and Nancy.

The witness, Dorothy Mille, office secretary to Park Department Superintendent James Ager, said she was "well-acquainted" with the Parkers and that she and her fiancee had gone out with them on several occasions, once to a dance.

"Everything appeared harmonious" on those occasions, she said.

Estes Plays Underdog In N.J. Primary Today

... He'll Vie Against Demos And Ike

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver will play his traditional underdog role in New Jersey's presidential primary Tuesday. He will vie against both the Democratic state organization and President Eisenhower.

Kefauver's slate of convention delegates, mostly political unknowns, seek election over an unpledged slate headed by Gov. Robert B. Meyner and other party leaders.

In another section of the ballot, Kefauver will take on President Eisenhower in a form of "popularity contest."

The Tennessean put in six days of hard campaigning through this industrial and farming state in an effort to score another of his upsets.

A comparatively light turnout of voters is expected, possibly less than a million of the 2,600,000 registered. Further rain is predicted.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voters cannot cross party lines. "Write-ins" are permitted in the direct presidential preference voting—the so-called popularity contest—but no space is provided for vice presidential write-ins.

The primary is beset with "angles" which probably will give leaders of both parties food for study regardless of the outcome.

Adlai Stevenson did not enter the primary and did not appear in the state, but his political fortunes conceivably could be affected somewhat by the outcome.

The unpledged slate generally is regarded as friendly to Stevenson, although Meyner has insisted it will weigh all candidates with an open mind.

Prestige

Meyner, a dark horse possibility in the race, is laying his prestige on the line by heading the unpledged slate as a delegate-at-large candidate.

A thumping victory for his organization over Kefauver naturally would increase consideration of Meyner as a possibility for national office. Conversely a strong run by Kefauver could dim Meyner's political light.

Political sources differ on what would constitute a "substantial" Kefauver showing.

In a statement on Strom's objection, Mrs. Orme said, "While not too surprising, the objection made to my filing for election to the Legislature is a disappointment. It is such only because of the motive which prompted me to seek the state position."

I left the City Council of Lincoln in the hope of being able to perform, in some small way, a greater service to a greater number of people. Frankly, the legal question involved here never occurred to me until after I had filed for the Legislature.

"I have acted in good faith and am certain the secretary of state's office will arrive at that conclusion."

A ruling by Marsh will follow the hearing on the objection. The decision by Marsh may be appealed directly to the Supreme Court where it would be given priority in the order of events over other matters.

Veto Shatters Farmers' Hopes, Chairman Butler Asserts

GOP Hall Feels Ike Did 'Right'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Monday the farm bill veto leaves "farmers' hopes for aid this year . . . as shattered as the famous campaign promises Eisenhower made in 1952."

"This was a direct blow from the President himself and not from a mere subordinate," Butler said in a statement.

"Farmers not only have been injured by the President's refusal to go along with Congress on the vital issue, but they have been insulted by the President's decision, three years later, to raise price supports a few cents on a few commodities."

Mr. Eisenhower has had authority to take this action—and more—ever since he became President. To take it now, after farmers have lost three billion dollars, is to throw American farmers a bone when they are already sitting at the second table."

Butler said that in the veto message Eisenhower "expounds on the alleged evils of high price supports, says 'it is inconceivable that we should ask farm families to go deeper into this self-defeating round of cause and effect,' then announces slight increases of his own." He added:

"Farmers need major increases and deserve a place at the first table. President Eisenhower demonstrated again today that they will not get help from a Republican administration."

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall put a political stamp of approval on President Eisenhower's farm bill veto Monday.

Hall said the action will help the Republicans in November. He told newsmen at a GOP campaign strategy conference here that Eisenhower was "absolutely right in vetoing the farm bill and will be sustained by the American people."

"It will not make my job any tougher," he said in reference to the veto.

proposal for enactment of a soil bank program and his promise of increased crop price supports won apparent majority approval of state chairman, national committee and other leaders attending the two-day conference.

But Hall himself recognized some Republican dissent. He acknowledged the farm price situation and its possible effect of the election "is not as I would like it."

Halls Increases

Hall said, however, he believed increases in price supports, boosts in dairy returns and proposed benefits for growers of perishable products will "take care of the economic picture quite well" before the election.

Predicting that the veto will not cost the Republicans any farm states, Hall said that "in my opinion it is a question of how happy the farmer is between now and election day."

"I would be less than frank if I didn't say there is a problem in the farm area," Hall said. "But we will solve the problem. The President's recommendations will go a long way toward that."

Hall said he believed the veto will serve to bring to the farmers attention what he called the action of Democratic leaders in Congress in "playing politics with the farm problem." He charged the Democrats had "stalled" passage of an effective bill.

Says Ike "Honest Man"

Asked if he believed dissatisfied farmers will now transfer their criticisms from Secretary of Agriculture Benson to the President, Hall said he thinks the farmers regard Eisenhower "as an honest man and a man that they can trust that he is doing the honest thing for them."

Hoover Calls For Free Nation Unity Against Commies

DALLAS, Texas (INS)—Former President Herbert Hoover called for "unity of free nations" as "the only certain defense" against Red colonialism.

He told lawyers attending the Dallas meeting of the Inter-American Bar Association that the Communist variety of socialism . . . is rotting the souls of two-fifths of mankind.

"The threat to free men of Red colonialism, with a supply of fascism, needs no emphasis from me. The unity of free nations is the only certain defense."

His speech, on "world experience with the Karl Marx way of life," was broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company.

Hoover declared: "Despite many setbacks and all the disguises of Karl Marx, we in this hemisphere have in the main sustained the dynamic incentives and creative energies of regulated economic life. We have thereby made it a better place for the masses of our people to live than anywhere else in the world."

New Mystery Man Revealed By Top Reds

LONDON (INS) — The visit of Russia's top two leaders to London starting Wednesday has thrust to the fore a new young mystery man of the Soviet hierarchy.

He is S. N. Khrushchev, listed among the "councillors" or experts of the party, and described only as a student at an electrical institute. He is also the son of Nikita Khrushchev, Communist party boss who will tour Britain with Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

Inclusion of young Khrushchev's name in the party was the first time it had come to the attention of the West. And it evidently was the first time many Russians outside of their native land ever heard of it either.

"Nothing in Files"

Inquiries at the Soviet Embassy, to the chief Tass correspondent in London, and to the editor of the Soviet Weekly of London elicited no information whatever about him.

At each of these places the answer was the same—"have no information on him," "nothing in our files about him," or "don't know anybody outside of Russia who would have such information."

A top Soviet expert at the Foreign Office did add one little detail to the official announcement—he believed that this was Khrushchev's second son, the first having been killed in World War II.

However, the former GOP chief executive warned the Kremlin is "right now carrying on aggression against the Western Hemisphere by conspiracies among our fuzzy-minded to overthrow our governments. They comprise a cult of disloyalty . . .

"For the last year," he said. "The Kremlin has been exuding peace and good will toward all men. But I have not observed that they have called off these conspiracies and corruptions."

His speech, on "world experience with the Karl Marx way of life," was broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company.

Hoover declared: "Despite many setbacks and all the disguises of Karl Marx, we in this hemisphere have in the main sustained the dynamic incentives and creative energies of regulated economic life. We have thereby made it a better place for the masses of our people to live than anywhere else in the world."

Parker Trial Takes Break

Mille testified she observed "nothing unusual" about him and "no signs of nervousness or anything out of the ordinary."

Average, Normal

In response to other questions, the witness said Parker appeared to have "a mind of his own" was "average and normal in every respect" and was not a "Milquetoast type."

The defense had contended a "false confession" was wrong out of a "submissive, Milquetoast-type" Parker.

On cross-examination, Miss Mille testified that Parker was kind and considerate to his wife and "loved her very much."

Miss Mille was followed on the stand by Park Superintendent Ager, who said Parker showed "extreme interest" in his work as city forester and "did an excellent job."

Ager testified to being summoned by a frantic phone call to the Parker home at noon on Dec. 14.

Incoherent

"Darrel was incoherent when I arrived," Ager said. "He dragged me into the bedroom and pointed at the bed."

Ager said he obtained a sedative capsule from a doctor and gave it to Parker to quiet him down. He received two capsules for later use, he said.

On cross-examination, Ager testified Parker was still in a "grief-stricken condition" when interviewed by authorities briefly on Dec. 14 and the following day in Scheele's office.

To a question by Scheele, Ager said Parker was given "courteous" consideration by authorities.

The first witness called Monday by the state was an FBI laboratory technician who testified the "white cord" found on the neck and wrists of the slain woman was similar in every respect to the clothes line in the basement of the Parker home.

FBI Agent Robert E. Duckett, with the laboratory since 1944, said the "brown twine" taken from the body, however, was not similar to that found rolled on a stick located on the basement stairs.

Duckett said the swatches and brassiere he examined appeared to have been both torn and cut. "Nothing of significance" was found in the fingernail scrapings taken from the body, he said.

Testimony On Car

Asst. Police Chief Eugene Masters, in cross-examination by the defense, testified the 1949 or 1950 black Ford reported near the Parker home the morning of Dec. 14 or its driver has never been identified.

Asked about the watch belonging to Nancy, Masters said the watch has not been found by police.

The defense had placed considerable significance on the mystery car and the missing watch in its questioning.

Arab Peace Plan Given U.N. Chief

BEIRUT, Lebanon (INS) — An Arab peace plan envisaging a Middle East arms embargo was communicated to Dag Hammarskjold,

A high Arab diplomat outlined the details of the plan to International News Service, which it is said, would be acceptable to the Arab nations.

The main feature of the plan is Arab willingness to accept a United Nations-supervised arms embargo in exchange for a compromise from Israel on territorial adjustments, refugees, the Jordan water works and some other points.

The diplomat said if the U.N. secretary general gets acceptance of major points of the plan from Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, "a new way of life in the Middle East can begin."

Richard Horn Dies; AFL Union Leader

OMAHA (AP) — Richard Horn, 51, Omaha, a leader of the AFL Communists Union in Nebraska, died Monday after a long illness.

Horn was a former president of Omaha Local 31 and secretary-treasurer of the state organization. He was safety supervisor for the Tumpene Co. Survivors include his mother, widow and a daughter. Services will be Wednesday.

FBI Agent Robert E. Duckett, with the laboratory since 1944, said the "brown twine" taken from the body, however, was not similar to that found rolled on a stick located on the basement stairs.

Veto Shatters Farmers' Hopes, Chairman Butler Asserts

GOP Hall Feels Ike Did 'Right'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Monday the farm bill veto leaves "farmers' hopes for aid this year . . . as shattered as the famous campaign promises Eisenhower made in 1952."

"This was a direct blow from the President himself and not from a mere subordinate," Butler said in a statement.

"Farmers not only have been injured by the President's refusal to go along with Congress on this vital issue, but they have been insulted by the President's decision, three years late, to raise price supports a few cents on a few commodities."

"Mr. Eisenhower has had authority to take this action—and more-ever since he became President. To take it now, after farmers have lost three billion dollars, is to throw American farmers a bone when they are already sitting at the second table."

Butler said that in the veto message Eisenhower "expounds on the alleged evils of high price supports, says it is inconceivable that we should ask farm families to go deeper into this self-defeating round of cause and effect, then announces slight increases of his own." He added:

"Farmers need major increases and deserve a place at the first table. President Eisenhower demonstrated again today that they will not get help from a Republican administration."

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall put a political stamp of approval on President Eisenhower's farm bill veto Monday.

Hall said the action will help the Republicans in November. He told newsmen at a GOP campaign strategy conference here that Eisenhower was "absolutely right in vetoing the farm bill and will be sustained by the American people."

"It will not make my job any tougher," he said in reference to the veto.

proposal for enactment of a soil bank program and his promise of increased crop price supports won apparent majority approval of state chairmen, national committeemen and other leaders attending the two-day conference.

But Hall himself recognized some Republican dissent. He acknowledged the farm price situation and its possible effect of the election "is not as I would like it."

Halls Increases

Hall said, however, he believed increases in price supports, boosts in dairy returns and proposed benefits for growers of perishable products will "take care of the economic picture quite well" before the election.

Predicting that the veto will not cost the Republicans any farm seats, Hall said that "in my opinion it is a question of how happy the farmer is between now and election day."

"I would be less than frank if I didn't say there is a problem in the farm area," Hall said. "But we will solve the problem. The President's recommendations will go a long way toward that."

Hall said he believed the veto will serve to bring to the farmers' attention what he called the action of Democratic leaders in Congress in "playing politics with the farm problem." He charged the Democrats had "stalled" passage of an effective bill.

Says Ike "Honest Man"

Asked if he believed dissatisfied farmers will now transfer their criticisms from Secretary of Agriculture Benson to the President, Hall said he thinks the farmers regard Eisenhower "as an honest man and a man that they can trust, that he is doing the honest thing for them."

Despite Hall's optimism, there were signs that some GOP farm belt candidates may have to alter drastically their previous strategy of trying to ride the President's coattails into office in November.

TV Debate OK'd

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (INS) — Democratic presidential hopeful Adlai E. Stevenson announced that he has agreed to make several joint appearances on television with rival candidate Estes Kefauver prior to the California primary on June 5.

In a special release from Southern Pines, Stevenson said: "I find that my schedule would enable me to join with him (Sen. Kefauver) in a joint television discussion of the issues in California May 13.

"I would be less than frank if I didn't say there is a problem in the farm area," Hall said. "But we will solve the problem. The President's recommendations will go a long way toward that."

Major Networks Will Carry Ike's Talk To Editors

NEW YORK (AP) — The major radio networks and CBS-TV said they will carry live (9:30 p.m., CST) President Eisenhower's address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors next Saturday in Washington.

The radio networks are ABC, NBC, CBS, and Mutual. NBC-TV announced it will carry a film of the speech at 11 p.m.

The ticker tape reported phantom sales of shares in Philco Corp. and New York Central on Feb. 27 but these were detected almost immediately by specialists on the floor and no apparent harm was done.

Two handwriting experts, working independently, found similarities in the writing on the slips which reported the false sales and the normal writing of the page boy.

The incident caused a considerable flutter in Wall Street circles at the time and immediate steps were taken by the exchange to forestall any similar hoaxes by any of the 475 employees working on the floor.

The exchange withheld the boy's name because of his age. A spokesman quoted exchange officials as saying the boy had no apparent motive aside from playing a stupid prank."

Icardi Perjury Trial In Cloak And Dagger War Slaying Opens

Prosecution Says
He Plotted Killing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal court jury was told that ex-Army Lt. Aldo L. Icardi often talked of having to "get rid" of Maj. William V. Holohan, his superior on a cloak and dagger mission behind enemy lines in Italy during World War II.

Icardi, 34, a Pittsburgh real estate broker, went on trial on six charges of falsely denying to a congressional subcommittee in 1953 that he plotted the slaying of Holohan in northern Italy in December, 1944.

In a long opening statement to the jury, Victor C. Woerheide, the chief prosecutor, said the evidence he will offer will show that Icardi directed the poisoning and shooting of Holohan.

While the indictment charges perjury, the government, to obtain a conviction, must convince the jury that Icardi masterminded his superior's death.

4 Alternates

Woerheide made his opening statement after a jury of six men and three women had been seated.

In addition, anticipating a long trial, U. S. Dist. Judge Richmond B. Keech ordered four alternate jurors seated. They will be available to replace any jurors that might have to leave due to illness or other causes.

Icardi's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, said he will make an opening statement Tuesday, repeating previous denials of the defendant that he had any part in Holohan's death.

Woerheide, repeatedly referring to Holohan's death as "murder," told the jury that Icardi had "misappropriated" funds of the Office of Strategic Services mission headed by Holohan, and was afraid the major would discover this.

Briefed

The prosecutor said that after Holohan had been poisoned and shot, under Icardi's direction, the defendant "briefed" a fellow American, former Sgt. Carl LoDolce, Rochester, N. Y., as to what they were to say.

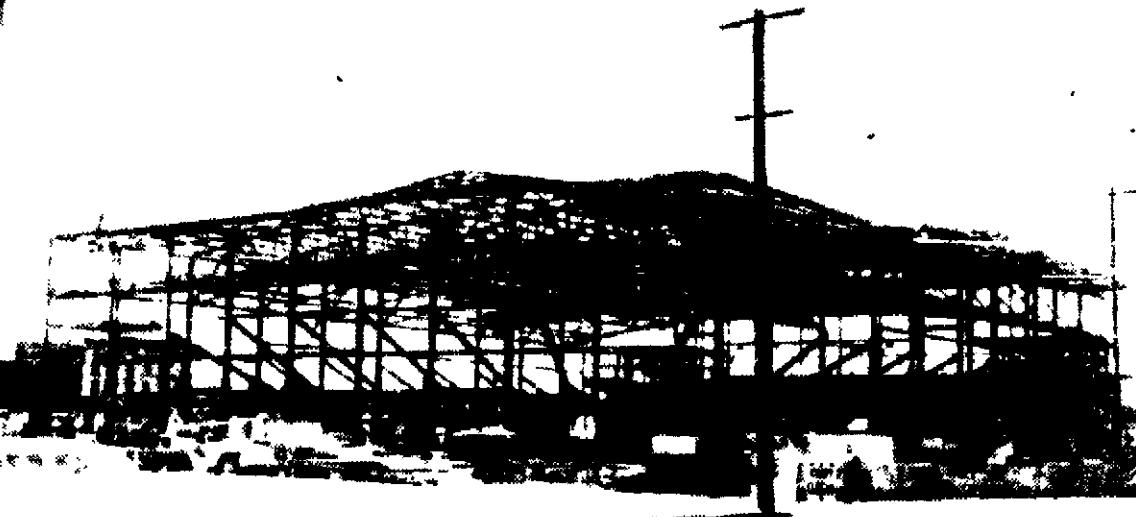

An Italian court tried Icardi and LoDolce in absentia in 1951 and convicted them of murder. Icardi was given a life sentence. LoDolce has a 17-year sentence that was increased by five years by an appeals court. Since they cannot be extradited to Italy, the sentences are meaningless.

Two Italian partisans were acquitted by the Italian court and are expected to testify against Icardi.

Giving Statistics

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — A U.N. official said Russia and Poland now are giving the U.N. economic statistics.

Philippe de Seynes of France, undersecretary for economic and social affairs, made the announcement to the U.N. Statistical Commission as it opened its three-week ninth annual session.

Auditorium Steel Erection Completed

Pershing Municipal Auditorium had taken definite shape as the last piece of steel was put into place. About 1,200 tons of steel were erected at the building at 15th and N. Steel erection took about five weeks, and the project went "very rapidly and smoothly," according to an Olson Construction Co. official. (Star Photo.)

Auditorium Steel Now All In Place

The erection of steel, about 1,200 tons of it was completed Monday for the Pershing Municipal Auditorium at 15th and N.

"The steel erection progressed very rapidly and smoothly," Kenneth Dodge of Olson Construction Co. said. It took about five weeks for the steel project.

The auditorium was to be finished by Oct. 1 of this year, but Also re-elected were E. Philip Watkins, vice president; Archie J. Maley, secretary-treasurer and John E. Curtiss and Ralph Tyler Sr., directors.

The group purchased the 11-story Security Mutual Life Insurance Co. building at 12th and O in 1947, with $175,000 of paid-in stock.

The Veterans Administration regional offices were slated to be moved because of lack of space in Lincoln, so the corporation purchased the building to keep the 500 persons employed with the VA in Lincoln.

Since the principal tenant is the VA regional headquarters, the building was renamed the Veterans Building.

The current lease runs to March 23, 1957 and the government has an option to extend it for a year before a new lease must be negotiated by five years by an appeals court. Since they cannot be extradited to Italy, the sentences are meaningless.

Two Italian partisans were acquitted by the Italian court and are expected to testify against Icardi.

Col. Pollock New Provost Marshal

Lt. Col. Keith K. Pollock has been appointed Lincoln Air Force Base provost marshal.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Col. William H. Gillespie, base commander.

The appointment was effective April 13th.

Col. Pollock succeeds Maj. Omer A. Headrich in the provost marshal job, which the major has held since the base was activated.

The colonel served as base director of manpower prior to the appointment.

Maj. Headrich will assume the duties as assistant base provost marshal.

In a statement, Col. Gillespie said "Maj. Headrich has done an excellent job as base provost marshal and is to be highly commended." The colonel said Headrich has "filled the position of both a lieutenant colonel and major for the past two years."

The new position for Maj. Headrich "will allow (him) to concentrate on police work and the operation function of the Air Police Squadron," the colonel said.

Col. Pollock will take charge of administrative matters and staff planning for the squadron, Col. Gillespie said.

Plans Said Moving Quickly On New Interstate Highway

Rapid progress is being made on the start of the proposed interstate highway across Nebraska without waiting for passage of the bill now before the full committee in Congress, L. N. Rees, state engineer, said Monday.

Aerial photographs have been taken covering about half of the route between Omaha and Seward county, he explained, and now consulting engineers can start mapping the exact route and making construction plans. Construction details were ironed out last week.

Ress said the committee has decided that construction will cover 13 years. The program will provide for 90 per cent federal funds and 10 per cent state, he explained, but it will be in varying amounts from year to year.

The engineer explained that before any work can start under the legislation before Congress, it is first necessary that $500,000 now available at 50-50 matching must be used. This is a carryover from 1955.

This year there is $2,400,000 of federal funds which must be matched with $1,600,000 of state funds. This must be used before new funds become available.

Under the proposed law, on July 1, 1957, there will be available to Nebraska $4,400,000 of federal funds and in 1958 about $7,300,000.

These will be for 90 per cent federal matching. At peak federal funds would be $8,600,000 a year.

Ress said that he is again facing the same problem that seems to face all highway builders—shortage of money. Without the new bill, he said there will be available on July 1 $5,300,000 of federal funds which will require $3,700,000 of state matching.

Ress said the big problem now facing the Highway Department is where to get the state money for the inter-state and continuing primary and secondary construction.

Ress said that he expects costs will be about $400,000 a mile in most rural areas, with some decline in western Nebraska. He refused to estimate urban costs because he said much of it will be in South Omaha where acquisition of land will be a problem.

A committee was recently authorized in Lincoln to circulate initiative petitions for a ton-mile tax law which they hoped would provide sufficient funds to meet federal matching.

Such a bill has been before the Legislature and defeated after strong opposition by lobbies of trucking and oil industries.

Estimates in Washington have been that Nebraska will need about $160,000,000 to complete the interstate system across the state. It is expected to reach about to the Lincoln Air Base with access roads into the city proper.

There Were Two Girls

Margaret Truman relaxed quietly over the week end at Independence, Mo. The family home gleamed with the special brightening-up that tells that a wedding is soon to be. Soft spring weather pushed the yellow forsythia and the bright red japonica into abundant bloom and the lilacs hastened the swelling of their buds to be ready in full bloom and fragrance for the wedding. It was a soft and idyllic environment for one of America's beloved girls.

Across the sea in Monaco another American popular favorite, Grace Kelly, moved in a brilliant scene, but not as soft a one. For her final days, too, are slipping past. She is

Back To School

Some 1,000 professional and volunteer fire-fighters were in Grand Island at the opening of the week for their 19th annual school.

Firemen have the knack of turning a session into a rollicking good time, but they are also as studious a group as one can find. Their 1956 convention will be no exception. It will be full of fun. There will also be an extensive exchange of ideas and knowledge on the full variety of community security subjects lumped under the heading of fire-fighting.

It is noteworthy that civil defense officials will play a prominent part in the sessions. It is

The pressing crowds the jostling photographers the tension and the demands of a legion of guests the necessity for public display and lack of privacy is taking something especially precious away from her.

Both Grace and Margaret are real nice girls and America wishes them the best. But it does appear that Margaret is the more fortunate of the two. Fate is allowing her to be what every girl dreams to be—starry-eyed, completely happy and alone with her pretty thoughts.

Near East Mix-Up, Message Status

WASHINGTON — One reason U.S. policy in the Near East has been confused is the fact that the National Security Council has been split wide open over what steps to take in case the Israel-Egyptian dispute flares into an all-out conflagration.

The navy, which has drawn heavily on Arabian oil in the past, wants to take strong action to preserve future oil. So does the Air Force, which has an important base at Dhahran.

But the army feels differently, and so does John Foster Dulles. The army, which had to take the main beating in Korea, is worried about getting bogged down on the desert sands in a preventive police action into which the Russians would throw countless Moslems in "volunteers" similar to the Chinese volunteers which did the major fighting in Korea.

Secretary Dulles has a similar fears. Having claimed credit for getting the United States out of one war in Korea, he doesn't want to get the United States into a police action which might degenerate into war—especially just before election.

Dulles, therefore, argues that if allied forces are sent to the Near East, Britain should carry the cost burden at least until the United Nations takes official action.

Congratulations to Pan American Airways for their patriotic job in staging an emergency airlift of gamma globulin to Argentina. Pan Am received a special commendation from the State Department . . .

reports are untrue that Pan American Airways turned over a plane to Argentina's ousted Dictator Peron for his personal use

The Eisenhower administration is caught in its own cost-cutting squeeze. The GOP economy wave two years ago forced the Muscle Shoals nursery to close down. Result: there's a serious shortage of seedlings needed for the administration's Soil Bank Plan . . .

It will take an estimated $30,000 to put the Muscle Shoals nursery back into operation and two years for it to begin producing usable seedlings. One long-range effect of the GOP economy will be to stunt the growth of future forests. This will mean less newspaper 20 years from now for newspapers, which already have a paper problem . . . Senator Anderson of New Mexico, a former secretary of agriculture, has resigned from the Senate Agriculture committee for the sake of his blood pressure. The battle over the farm bill made Anderson so furious his doctor warned it was endangering his health. Like Eisenhower, he isn't supposed to get excited.

Garden Glances With The Moon

The Lord God spake a parable
In the first chapter of the world.
And He set there an angel garden
In a garment of white feathers.

No man is the peace of Heaven.
That the hawk might rest with the trees. For in the cool of the eve,
God walked with the first of men.

The love of the sun for paradise,
The song of the birds for earth.
One is nearer God's heart in a garden
Than anywhere else on earth.

—Dorothy Frances Turner

Today the moon is in the movable, watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Cancer. At 5:30 this afternoon, second lunar quarter will begin and at nine o'clock tonight, April's waxing moon will enter the fixed, fiery and very barren sign, Leo. Very early Friday morning, too early in fact for most of us to be about, it will enter the flexed, earthy and dry sign, Virgo. Sunday morning at 4:38 it will enter the movable, airy and semi-fruiful sign, Libra.

As you know, the exceedingly fruitful sign, Scorpio, always follows Libra, so next week you'll have practically two whole days in which to plant vegetables and annual flowers that produce their yield above the soil. However let me today go by—if you didn't plant peas and lettuce yesterday, do so today! They are cool weather vegetables and do best here in Nebraska only when planted early in the spring. Larkspur is a hardy annual flower that begs to be planted early. So do bachelor buttons—or do you say "tagged robins?"

How very pleasant to be at home in April. The very first "harbinger of spring" to greet us here on Locust Lane were dainty blue bells of scilla sibirica in our doorstep garden, and another day the pale white blooms of snowdrops (Galanthus) had opened. Then suddenly the blue and white star-shaped blooms of "Glory of the Snow" (Chionodoxa sardensis) joined the parade.

Chionodoxa were first introduced to England in 1857 and I've no idea how early they appeared in our American gardens. Very

This fine specimen of M. soulangeana may be seen easily from your car as you motor along A Street between 22nd and 24th. It was planted by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Korsmeyer 15 years ago. Mrs. Korsmeyer seems to remember, and cared for lovingly by her until she sold her home recently.

The Owens are very happy with the Korsmeyer home and garden, for their house was in Seattle but 18 months ago. Naturally they have missed the abundant and magnificent flowering trees and shrubs of the Pacific Northwest.

Plant ornamental trees and shrubs right now for future shade and beauty. Let's "Keep Nebraska Beautiful."

So until another day—

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Pull for simple farm program. A $1.00 subsidy direct to farmer for corn, peaches, etc., 50 cent oats, potatoes, etc., $1.50 wheat.

Or, 2,000 hours at $1.00 per hour — $2,000 for work done. Good to measure "merit" on disaster insurance.

Why not $1 billion for interest on bonds? $5 billion for foreigners? $5-20 billion would take care of all unfortunates and put money at the bottom to keep business going.

How come our representatives and senators vote $1 billion for dams in Colorado and 30 years for dams in Mo. Valley? Now we can't even get a line from Ft. Randall. Besides Colorado dams will irrigate in Arizona at our loss.

Build parking places over the railroad tracks or close-in.

Start downtown circulating bus service at 5 cents.

Stop Canadian "infiltration" of wheat, etc.

Buy all large farms if less than 1,000 acres.

Make all owners reside on the farms, no city farmers.

Farms sell high because some people have too much money, can borrow and have the government pay interest (taken off income tax). They let the government pay for their losses.

Limit farms to 20 acres. That is enough now since 300 bushels of corn are possible.

Nixon Back In GOP Limelight

WASHINGTON — A controversial Republican office-holder who has been keeping his head down lately catches the spotlight this week under circumstances helpful to him.

Vice President Richard Nixon will introduce President Eisenhower at the Republican campaign kick-off here before party leaders from all over the country. These leaders are almost without exception friendly to Nixon and can be expected to give him a great big hand.

It will be a show of strength designed as much to impress the President as the public. National Chairman Leonard Hall planned it that way.

The President has still refused to give Nixon a formal endorsement for renomination, saying that the convention will decide and suggesting to the vice president that he chart his own course. But Hall has said Nixon will be the nominee and the chairman has an impressive record for calling the political tunes to which the President in the end dances.

He would not perhaps loom so largely in their thinking if the Eisenhower administration had managed to recruit a large variety of other young articulate partisan spokesmen. It has not. The cabinet, drawn from business rather than politics, is of little help on the hustings.

Republican headquarters admits candidly that when the calls come in for speakers to set the prairie on fire, it is often quite a job to satisfy the callers.

The current campaign school which the President and Nixon will address is one of Hall's devices for coping with the specialized Eisenhower presidency. Hall's macho will not go to the political mountains, so Hall brings them to him.

If the GOP politicians were in a position to complain that they must make all the journeys, no doubt they would. It is not pleasing to them that the President does not seem to care for their company in his hours of ease but joins with his business friends at golf clubs.

But they know he is far more popular than his party. All the elections since 1952 have made that very clear. So they obey a Hall summons to gather around for pep meetings with the President, fully understanding that they must do the co-operating and keep their canines happy.

It is a diverting reversal of the usual situation which finds a President spending important time on his party fence mending. (Continued, page 2)

not only the affinity of firefighting with defense but the fact that the firemen have from the start been the most devoted and the most dependable allies to the cause of civil defense. Saving property and saving the community is a part of their makeup. They don't care under what title it comes. That makes them especially good citizens.

Nebraska welcomes the 1956 school and while the firemen polish up on new techniques the rest of us can go about our business secure in the knowledge that as usual our concerns are in good hands.

Red British Get-Together

It is an open secret that the average Briton is not overwhelmed by the spirit of hospitality on the eve of the arrival of Russia's Premier Bulganin and Red Party Chief Khrushchev. But it is to be taken for granted that the Red chiefs will be treated with proper courtesy.

They sailed Sunday from the Baltic port of Kaliningrad on the Soviet cruiser Ondjoniokidze armed with ideas, they revealed, that could bring an improvement in East-West relations. Spe-

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Just before grabbing a plane Monday to Washington, a letter addressed to Mr. William Lawrence reached the desk of the editor. A presidential candidate, who has been pounding the highways in recent weeks and shaking hands, said he appreciated deeply seeing me where actually I was not.

It took some sharp eyesight to see me, may I suggest, some 60 miles away. But the note from a good friend was appreciated and all this business of shaking hands and writing notes and remembering names and faces must be tough on a candidate. Just for the heck of it, I have a notion to drop an old friend a note addressed to "Dear Adlai." Hyde Sweet mentioned the other day that if he were doing it in expressing an opinion of the compromise farm legislation, he would do exactly what Jack Chase did. He would have announced in advance that he was going to support the conference measure, and then when it came to the floor of the Congress, he would have cast his vote for it. Quite a bit different from Sen. Roman Hruska, who now represents Nebraska in the Senate. Hruska expresses the opinion, if quoted accurately, that over the long pull, anyone voting against the conference bill would not especially need to turn over in bed endlessly while worrying about the political consequences of that vote. Curtis and Hruska split—Curtis voting for the compromise legislation—and Hruska against it.

Nebraska will not get its way, Sen. Carl Curtis reported late last week. The American Battle Monuments Commission decided that since Gen. Pershing was a national figure, any memorial should be built in the national capital rather than in some city in which he had lived. Nebraska's congressional delegation had urged that the memorial be built in Lincoln, but its appeal was futile.

Actually three distinguished American leaders can be identified with Lincoln. Pershing lived here as a young man, and in the closing years of his life maintained a home here. He, the late W. J. Bryan and the late Charles Gates Dawes, politically at the end of poles, nevertheless gathered at the old Don Cameron restaurant on South 11th Street for lunch. There was good food. One dish in particular, stewed chicken and dumplings, was fit for the gods, to say nothing of three hungry young men—one possessing an amazing appetite. Some day in its rich old maturity, Nebraska's capital may get around to commemorating the reverent memories of some of its earlier leaders. Pershing was one. In her recent article on Nebraska, appearing in Holiday Magazine, Nebraska's finest phrase-maker, Mary Sandoz, speaks of Lincoln and its shining cleanliness. Of the Sandhills, she writes: "They are the finest natural reservoir in the world—a great greenish dun sponge that soaks up every drop of moisture from rain or snow and holds it in the water tables and in the 2,000 lakes." There may be a stretch of imagination in these 2,000 lakes dotting a strange land of rare beauty. But with the sun high in the heavens, the wind singing lullaby, and the waving sea of grass to complete the picture, the beauty of a vast, too little known region cannot be over-emphasized.

It sounds encouraging. We shall all look forward to the day when mushrooms are more abundant than T-bones, but being Americans we are for keeping the steaks, simply heaping on more mushrooms.

Great Day Coming

It is hard to convince the average American that there is anything better than a big juicy steak garnished with a few tasty mushrooms. That is as of today.

The future may just reverse this with tomorrow's space-trotting citizen flipping home from Mars to sit down to a fine dish of mushrooms braised up with a few steak morsels.

Mushrooms are considered extraordinary food because they contain all the needed amino-acids plus a nice array of wanted vitamins. They are easy to take because they are 90 per cent water. The reason they have not become the staff of life is because it has been too difficult to raise them in sufficient volume at low cost.

Well, while others have been cracking the atom one researcher, Dr. Seymour S. Block, of the University of Florida, decided to specialize on sawdust. He noted that mushrooms grew well in dead, disintegrating trees. So he just bought some sawdust, mixed in some oatmeal and planted mushroom spores. The first surprise was that he got a bumper harvest. The second was that he could harvest his crop 12 times where the conventional means permits but three harvests.

It sounds encouraging. We shall all look forward to the day when mushrooms are more abundant than T-bones, but being Americans we are for keeping the steaks, simply heaping on more mushrooms.

MONTE CARLO—One of these days somebody's going to put all days some time into a stage play or a movie and nobody will believe it could really happen.

The saga of the incursion of the Kelly family, accompanied by seventy friends and relatives mainly from Philadelphia, will provide grist enough for any playwright's mill. The mass invasion of Main Liners in this atom-sized kingdom started out as enthusiastically as the pealing of another Philadelphia institution, the Liberty Bell, but it has developed a somewhat similar crack.

The first fly in the ointment for the voyaging wedding party was the discovery that they had to squeeze four into a cabin in some cases because of the limited space aboard the S.S. Constitution. Then, some had trouble getting hotel rooms here and at least three have been robbed, one until it hurt.

Honest John and Margaret Kelly, who came up from brick-laying to industrial nobility, assumed it would be just one jolly party and everybody would be happy as clams. They forgot to take into consideration the fact that there is nothing much more helpless than an American tourist in a country where the natives are so dumb they cannot speak his language.

But Hall has said Nixon will be the nominee and the chairman has an impressive record for calling the political tunes to which the President in the end dances.

If the GOP politicians were in a position to complain that they must make all the journeys, no doubt they would. It is not pleasing to them that the President does not seem to care for their company in his hours of ease but joins with his business friends at golf clubs.

But they know he is far more popular than his party. All the elections since 1952 have made that very clear. So they obey a Hall summons to gather around for pep meetings with the President, fully understanding that they must do the co-operating and keep their party in line.

In every campaign the Republicans have conducted since 1952, Nixon has been the workhorse. The professionals are grateful for the

Garden Glances With The Moon

The Lord God planted a garden in the first white days of the world. And He set there an angel warden in a garment of light entwined.

So near to the peace of Heaven,

The hawk might nest with the wren.

For there in the cool of the even' God walked with the first of men.

The kiss of the sun for pardon.

The song of the birds for mirth.

One is nearer God's heart in a garden

Than anywhere else on earth.

Today the moon is in the movable, watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Cancer. At 5:30 this afternoon, second lunar quarter will begin and at nine o'clock tonight, April's waxing moon will enter the fixed, fiery and very barren sign, Leo. Very early Friday morning, too early in fact for most of us to be about, it will enter the flexed, earthy and dry sign, Virgo. Sunday morning at 4:38 it will enter the movable, airy and semi-fruity sign, Libra.

As you know, the exceedingly fruitful sign, Scorpio, always follows Libra, so next week you'll have practically five whole days in which to plant vegetables and annual flowers that produce their yield above the soil. However let not today go by—if you didn't plant peas and lettuce yesterday, do so today! They are cool weather vegetables and do best here in Nebraska only when planted early in the spring. Larkspur is a hardy annual flower that begs to be planted early. So do bachelor buttons—or do you say "ragged robins?"

How very pleasant to be at home in April. The very first "harbingers of spring" to greet us out here on Locust Lane were dainty blue bells of scilla sibirica in our doorstep garden, and another day the pure white blooms of snowdrops (Galanthus) had opened. Then suddenly the blue and white star-shaped blooms of "Glory of the Snow" (Chionodoxa sardensis) joined the parade.

Chionodoxas were first introduced to England in 1877 and I've no idea how early they appeared in our American gardens. Very

Let me tell her something that will be of enlightenment to her. I have a Mormon daughter living in Salt Lake City, whom I very much adore. She wrote me asking what I thought about her joining the Mormon Church several years ago, and I told her it was a matter in which I was not concerned and to do as she liked.

I have spent months visiting with her and I know far more about Mormonism than does the woman who criticized me. I do not criticize any man's religious belief. Because the Ku Klux Klan jumped on Al Smith because of his religion, I voted for Al Smith in 1928.

A more coordinated and detailed traffic and street improvement program for Lincoln has been recommended by two advisory groups. The city's traffic engineer consultant from Chicago, George Barton, told the City Council in a letter that a piecemeal development of the traffic system "will produce an inefficient result."

At the request of Mayor Clark Jeary, Barton submitted an estimated fee of $5,400 for giving the city a street and traffic improvement program. A complete downtown traffic plan is needed, he said, including a study of the University of Nebraska area.

More Cooperation

The street and traffic improvement plan, he said, should be accomplished within the next three to five years. He called also for greater cooperation between the city's various agencies such as the engineering department, traffic commission and Planning Commission.

Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis, Mo., city planners for Lincoln, suggested much the same idea but called for employment of a traffic engineer to accomplish the job.

A Council committee of Jeary and Councilmen Hugh Thorne and Joseph E. Fenton will review the issue and make recommendations to the entire Council.

Southeast Radial

Meanwhile, plans moved ahead for improvement to the west end of the Southeast Radial. The City Council has approved a $13,500 estimate for installation of signal light equipment on K, J and Randolph leading into and out of the diagonal.

This will include regular stop and go signals on K at 10th, 13th, 16th and 17th and directional lane signals on K from 18th to 21st and on parts of J and Randolph. Some $10,000 worth of this equipment is already on hand.

Also approved by the Council was a $40,000 item for storm sewer and pavement improvement work in the radial area. Storm sewers will be installed in 11, K to L and in K from 17th to 21st.

Also, the 17th and K intersection will be re-paved to eliminate the gutter or pavement dips there.

Adlai, Estes Tee Off On Ag Bill Veto

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said the President's farm bill veto "shows again his reluctance to face the facts of the farm crisis."

Stevenson's Chicago office issued a statement it said the candidate for the Democratic nomination for president telephoned from Southern Pines, N. C., where he is visiting his sister, Mrs. Ernest Ives. The statement added:

"While the bill was not perfect, it would have helped to check the decline in farm income which has already played such havoc with so many farmers."

The Democrats in Congress tried to help the President keep his 1952 promises to the farmer. I hope they will keep on trying in spite of this setback."

Blame Put on Ike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said that President Eisenhower, by vetoing the farm bill, "will now take the full blame for the callous attitude of his administration" toward farmers' problems.

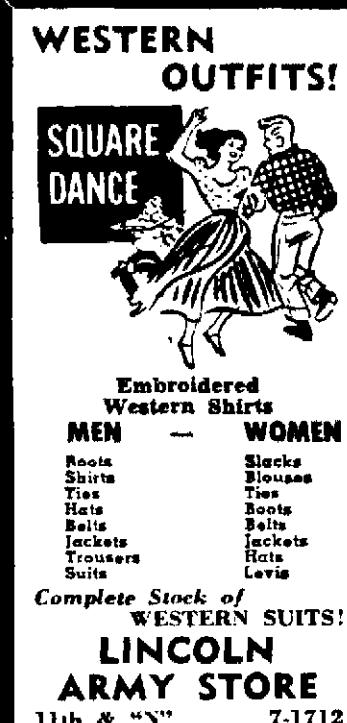

"This, of course, is precisely where the blame should have been put all the time," he said in a statement.

Kefauver, campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he regretted Eisenhower's farm bill veto even though it "undoubtedly will greatly help the Democratic party in the campaign this fall." He said farm distress was "so widespread and so deep" he was willing to forego political advantage to achieve prompt assistance.

Joint Chiefs Discuss New U.S. Strategy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Joint Chiefs of Staff met Monday in a special session which high officials said was called to consider possible shifts in U.S. global strategy.

As usual, the top military commanders' deliberations were secret.

The tipoff to newsmen that an extraordinary meeting of the Joint Chiefs was under way came when the Pentagon announced revision of long-made plans by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations.

A Pentagon spokesman acknowledged that this was not the regular day for the weekly meeting of the chiefs. He said the matters that came up were "so important that each service had to be represented by its top man and not by a deputy."

In looks, too, Ford's out front—with styling that only the Thunderbird could inspire.

Ford goes First!

In Performance

At NASCAR's Speed and Safety Events at Daytona Beach, Ford won the Manufacturer's Trophy for best all-around performance. And Ford's 225-h.p. Thunderbird Special V-8, in one day, smashed 30 world speed records at Kingman, Arizona. No wonder the Ford V-8 is the world's largest-selling eight.

In Safety

When the editors of "Motor Trend" unanimously voted Ford's safety program "the top car advance" of 1956, they had in mind Ford's Lifeguard Design . . . a whole family of safety features, including a deep-center steering wheel and double-grip door latches, to help protect you from injury in case of accident.

In Economy

In this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Customline V-8 with Fordomatic Drive won over all cars in its class. The sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight with greater gasoline economy per pound than any competitive car . . . "sixes" as well as "eights"! Hagemeister Takes Presidency Of Grain Dealers

Rex Hagemeister of Crawford was elevated from his office of vice president of the Nebraska Grain and Feed Dealers Association to president of the organization during the annual meeting in Lincoln Monday.

Replacing Hagemeister as vice-president was Edgar Havekost of Hooper. Outgoing president is Andy von Reim of North Bend.

Elected to the board of directors for three-year terms were Richard Duplap, Bridgeport; W. C. Pflug, York; Clarence Jacobsen, Lexington and Ray Cogill of Ogallala. Cogill and Jacobsen were both re-elected.

Filling a two-year term created by a vacancy on the board was Earl May of Hooper.

350-400 Attend Between 350 and 400 persons registered for the 28th annual meeting, which concluded Tuesday.

About 200 of those heard Marvin McLain, assistant to the secretary of agriculture, speak on the progress being made to solve the farm problem.

"We recognize the squeeze our farmers are in," he said. "We are taking the steps we can under the law to assist. We have asked for new legislation to go further. We should not and cannot depend on another war to bail us out of our farm income trouble as has happened twice before in the last 20 years," he continued.

Carry-over stocks, the speaker continued, have not only adversely affected farm prices, but because of their magnitude, "they have also changed our normal marketing and storing machinery methods and requirements."

Mark At Care

"Our present administration requested Congress early in January to legislation that would strike at the core of this surplus problem," he said.

He cited its main features as the soil bank plan and added that it must be "bold and large if it is to accomplish much. It could involve over one billion dollars in cost a year," he said.

He listed these things the administration was doing to relieve the situation:

- An all out effort being made to move into export all surplus.
- Expanded funds for research and development, an increase of 27 million dollars within the past three years.

3. Outright purchase of perishable items. He cited the pork buying program as an example to bolster sagging prices.

4. Gas tax refund to farmers which will refund 60 million dollars annually in federal tax.

5. An expanded 75 million dollar school milk program.

Wise Move

Speaking on the President's veto of the farm bill, he stated, "I think it was a wise move. It will be accepted by the farm people as well as other people as a wise decision."

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

This isn't just "big" talk. Dodge actually is bigger all around—up to 7.7 inches longer than cars in its own field, 14.5 inches longer than cars in the "low price" field. Dodge is bigger inside, too. More legroom front and rear! More hiproom front and rear, too!

Dodge push-button PowerFlite makes every other way of driving old-fashioned. It's mechanically perfect—safe, sure, completely automatic. Just touch a button and go!

Dodge is powered for today's driving! Aircraft-type 260 hp. Super Red Ram V-8 engine develops tremendous break-away power!

Solid—that's the way Dodge builds 'em! From the frame right on up, Dodge is engineered to take the roughest punishment. EXAMPLE: Box-section side rails provide greater strength and ruggedness than common I-beam or U-channel type used in most other car frames. Crossmembers are extra heavy. Short, rigid brackets anchor body securely to frame.

Who says parking isn't fun? Dodge power steering does 80% of the work, actually requires fewer turns of the steering wheel than other cars.

You can stop on a dime—and get nine cents change with Dodge power brakes. Front wheel brakes have two cylinders for positive, predictable stops.

It's America's performance champion! No other car has ever given such dramatic, convincing proof of superior performance. In a sensational 14-day run on the Bonneville Salt Flats, Dodge outclassed American stock cars and European sports cars both—shattered 306 official AAA records in all.

Speaking on the President's veto of the farm bill, he stated, "I think it was a wise move. It will be accepted by the farm people as well as other people as a wise decision."

Convention goers also heard Captain William Motts, assistant chief of staff of the Great Lakes Naval Base.

Captain Motts noted that there is a new awareness among people that foreign policy affects each directly.

"The strength of the country," he said, "lies in its people who provide the taxes."

He described Communist negotiation tactics and said, "Should we negotiate with Communists? We have to," he concluded.

Top Navy, Marine Brass To Inspect Lincoln Air Station

Adm. Daniel V. Gallery, USN, Chief of Naval Air Reserve Training, and Brig. Gen. Arthur F. Binney, USMC, Commander of Marine Air Reserve Training, will inspect the Naval and Marine Air Reserve squadrons attached to the Lincoln Naval Air Station Saturday.

Adm. Gallery is the fifth flag officer to head the Naval Air Reserve program. He is a noted military authority on anti-submarine warfare and a magazine article writer.

Gen. Binney was a Marine aviator during World War II and was awarded the Legion of Merit in Korea. He has served as naval attaché to the American embassies in Central America.

Ike Vetoes 2nd Bill This Session

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill marked the first time he took office that he has vetoed two major bills at one session of Congress.

The President rejected the natural gas bill in February because of what he considered improper lobbying in its behalf.

The only other major measures to encounter and Eisenhower veto were the postal pay bill in 1955 and a pay bill for federal employees in 1954. Mr. Eisenhower has vetoed a total of 67 bills since taking office but most were minor in nature.

OMAHA Meat Plant Returning To Normal

OMAHA (AP) — Wilson & Co. was working Monday toward full production in its Omaha plant after a two-week slump brought about by a labor dispute.

General Manager E. A. Trowbridge Jr. said hundreds of employees returned to their jobs Monday.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

If anyone is laboring under the delusion that social life is at a standstill around town, let him take a look at what is going on in the Eastridge neighborhood—There have been, are, and will be parties galore for a variety of reasons—

But let's begin the saga of Eastridge with the past week end, and the informal party for which Capt. and Mrs. Charles Vollmar were host and hostess at their home—The guest list included a neighborhood group composed of Maj. and Mrs. Howard Rose and Capt. and Mrs. Eldon Mills. The time was devoted to Tripoly and at the close of the evening refreshments were served.

The Vollmars also entertained the members of Capt. Vollmar's B-47 crew and their wives at an informal get-together—The guest list included Capt. and Mrs. Don Murphy and Capt. and Mrs. Sid Spilstein.

And this evening Mrs. LeRoy Anderson will be hostess to the members of her bridge eight-some when she entertains at a desert supper at her home. Seated at the bridge tables for the evening or play will be, in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Robert Cather, Mrs. John Hagerman, Mrs. Gene Hammang, Mrs. Wayne Price, Mrs. Boyd Wadell, Mrs. Vern Swiggart and Mrs. Larry Bounds.

The Wednesday calendar in Eastridge tells us that Mrs. Paul Phillips will be a luncheon hostess at her home to honor the officers and board members of the Eastridge PTA. Needless to say only the staff side of the official staff will be on hand including Mrs. Douglas Brodquin, who, with Mr. Brodquin, serves as president of the organization; Mrs. Edna Stika, one half of the office of vice-president—Dr. Stika is the other half; Mrs. Lester Cole who, with Mr. Cole, is the secretary, and Mrs. Richard Freeman who, with Mr. Freeman, holds the office of treasurer. Also honored at the luncheon were the feminine half of the retiring officers.

This is a big red letter day for Miss Patricia Anne Biggs, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. George Biggs. The very young sub-deb will be celebrating her second birthday, but we hear the festivities in honor of the occasion will be strictly a family affair.

Two more members of the very young set are in the news this week, too—they are Gary Thomas and Linda Kay Hagerman, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hagerman, who will be christened on Sunday morning. Following the christening service Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman will entertain a group of friends and relatives at their home. Among the guests will be Mrs. Hagerman's mother, Mrs. Iva Hagerman—and Mrs. Hagerman's aunt, Mrs. Ada Nordstrom.

Mention of the Hagerman family reminds us that later this week Mrs. Hagerman will be a coffee hostess at her home when she honors Mrs. Elton Busch of Amarillo, Tex., who is the house guest of Mr. Busch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al A. Busch.

But back of the days at hand and the afternoon coffee which Mrs. Marion Rozmarin was hostess when she entertained the Eastridge Scout Den mothers. During the party further plans were made by the mothers to assist in the Boy Scout Circus activities. The Eastridge Den Mothers include Mrs. H. O. Paulson, Mrs. Franklin Eldridge, Mrs. Douglas Brodquin and of course the hostess.

It was Rock And Roll night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rozmarin last Saturday evening when their two sons, George and Marvin, and Kenneth Hapstede entertained at a party for a group of teen-agers.

Hear there are some new residents in the Eastridge area—Lt. and Mrs. Robert L. Albrecht and their three children, Jimmy, Cathie and Bobbie, now are getting settled in their new home at 6238 Sunrise Rd. The Albrecht fivesome formerly resided at 5036 Benton.

Delegates

Representing the Soroptimist International of Lincoln at the organization's north central regional conference to be held April 20 to 22 at the Lowry Hotel in St. Paul, Minn., will be Mrs. E. W. Johnson, president; Mrs. Jo Jensen Bonebright, Mrs. Forrest Wilson and Miss Anna M. Evans.

The fifth quadrennial convention of the Soroptimist International Association will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City August 6 to 11. Mrs. C. M. Stewart will represent the Lincoln organization, of which she is past president.

State B, PW Convention

The opening session of the 38th annual convention of the Nebraska Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs on Friday evening at Kearney will feature a memorial service for club members who have passed away during the last year.

The service will be conducted by Mrs. Lucille Huribut of Chadron, and Miss Gwendoline Birky, state president, will preside at the session when reports of state officers and district directors will be given.

Speaker at the Saturday morning breakfast will be Miss Gladys V. Andersen of Lincoln, chairman of the 7-state North Central Region, whose topic will be "Toward Greater Heights."

Saturday noon, Mrs. Haven N.

Smith of Chappell, national chairman of the American Farm Bureau Women, will address the delegates on the subject, "And They Say It's a Man's World."

Conventions chairman is Mrs. Delores Noite, president of the Kearney Club.

IT was the Merrimyx Dancing Club that elected new officers at its party last Saturday evening—the last of the season.

The new president is Stewart Leese, and the secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Van Ashmun.

WHEN Mr. and Jack Phillips (Jo Ann Selleck) answered their doorbell last Saturday evening, they found a group of their friends waiting to shout "surprise." It was a housewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Phillips who recently have moved into their new home.

Speaker at the Saturday morning breakfast will be Miss Gladys V. Andersen of Lincoln, chairman of the 7-state North Central Region, whose topic will be "Toward Greater Heights."

Miss Cullin will be honored at a reception Saturday evening, and the 3-day convention will close with a breakfast and Emblem service Sunday morning at which Miss Hattie Steinberg of York, national recording secretary, will address the convention on "The Seventh Inning Stretch."

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

If anyone is laboring under the delusion that social life is at a standstill around town, let him take a look at what is going on in the Eastridge neighborhood—There have been, are, and will be parties galore for a variety of reasons—

But let's begin the saga of Eastridge with the past week end, and the informal party for which Capt. and Mrs. Charles Vollmar were host and hostess at their home—The guest list included a neighborhood group composed of Maj. and Mrs. Howard Ross and Capt. and Mrs. Eldon Mills. The time was devoted to Tripoly and at the close of the evening refreshments were served.

The Vollmars also entertained the members of Capt. Vollmar's B-47 crew and their wives at an informal get-together—The guest list included Capt. and Mrs. Don Murphy and Capt. and Mrs. Sid Spilseth.

And this evening Mrs. LeRoy Anderson will be hostess to the members of her bridge eight-some when she entertains at a dessert supper at her home. Seated at the bridge tables for the evening of play will be, in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Robert Cather, Mrs. John Hagerman, Mrs. Gene Hammang, Mrs. Wayne Price, Mrs. Boyd Waddle, Mrs. Vern Swigart and Mrs. Larry Bounds.

The Wednesday calendar in Eastridge tells us that Mrs. Paul Phillips will be a luncheon hostess at her home to honor the officers and board members of the Eastridge PTA. Needless to say only the distaff side of the official staff will be on hand including Mrs. Douglas Brogdun, who with Mr. Brogdun, serves as president of the organization; Mrs. Edwin Stika, one-half of the office of vice president—Dr. Stika is the other half; Mrs. Lester Cole who, with Mr. Cole, is the secretary, and Mrs. Richard Freeman who, with Mr. Freeman, holds the office of treasurer. Also honored at the luncheon were the feminine half of the retiring officers.

This is a big red letter day for Miss Patricia Anne Biggs,

Had Evening Ceremony

At an early evening ceremony on Friday, March 30, Miss Martha Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin E. Smith of Wichita, Kan., became the bride of Weldon Borgaard, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Borgaard of Lincoln. Dr. D. K. McColl read the lines of the candlelight service at Hillside Christian Church in Wichita, and Miss Ruth Love, organist, played the wedding music. Miss Love also accompanied Don Gibson, the vocal soloist.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Margaret Smith wore a ballerina-length frock fashioned on princess lines with a snug bodice and widely-flaring skirt. Her French gray ensemble was trimmed with crimson velvet ribbon, and she carried a bouquet of white and crimson carnations. Costumed identically were the bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Vely of Winfield, Kan., Miss Judy Walling and Miss Alice Smith, also a sister of the bride, both of Wichita. Miss Nita Kent of Nash, Okla., and Miss Berna Jo Blakley of Enid, Okla., lighted the candles, and the ring bearer was Miss Janice Gillenwater of Wichita.

Serving as best man was Kenneth Furman of Cheyenne, Wyo., and the ushers were Randy Rasmussen of Salina, Kan., Charles Patchen, Denver, Colo., and Paul Russell of Enid, Okla.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white silk net over taffeta. Soft folds of the net framed the heart-shaped neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, which was patterned with Schiffli embroidered lace, and the lace motif was repeated in bands on the very full net-over-taffeta skirt. A tiny pillbox of lace and pearls held her veil of illusion, and she carried a white prayer book decorated with giadoli florets and stephanotis and tufts of malines.

Miss Briggs Wins Contest

At the meeting of Council 5 of Toastmistress Clubs held at Kearney Sunday, Miss Cora Mae Briggs of Lincoln won first place in the council's annual speech contest with her talk entitled, "What Is Your Guess."

Second place honors went to Mrs. Harold Strong of Council Bluffs, Ia., and other contest participants were Miss Muriel Johnson of Kearney and Mrs. Harriett Schneiderwind of Omaha.

Miss Briggs, who is a charter member of the Lincoln club, has served as council chairman and recently was elected first vice president of the National Pharmaceutical Secretaries Association. She will represent the council at the regional Toastmistress meeting at St. Paul, Minn., May 19 and 20, at which a regional winner will be chosen to attend the international club contest to be held at Boston, July 15 to 18.

Kearney club members were hostesses at the council meeting at which Mrs. Sadie Johnson of Omaha, presided as council chairman. The program theme for the meeting was April Showers, and attending from Lincoln were Mrs. Bryan Strom-

$310,000 Into NWU Coffers In 10 Months

Nebraska Wesleyan University has received gifts and commitments totaling well over $310,000 during the past ten months, Chancellor A. Leland Forrest said.

After six of them came east Oct. 21, 1955, the welfare expert declared, Soviet agents approached them on at least three occasions, each time "stepping up the pressure."

Held Out

He said the last visit was made on Thursday morning, April 5 "at one a.m. by two thugs" who "put the holy fear in one boy who held out against going back."

International News Service was told that four of the returnees were taken to a restaurant 48 hours before their departure and plied with drink until they were too drunk to stand up.

They were then given letters from their families pleading for their return, INS was told, and shown pictures signed by their mothers and fathers in the Soviet Union.

Fire Safety Men Begin Inspection Of Lincoln Homes

Inspection of Lincoln homes—with few objections noted—started in the city Monday morning.

Firemen reported the major fire hazard encountered was piled and accumulated rubbish in basements. Faulty wiring and overloaded electrical systems was listed as second potential cause of fire.

The inspections Monday started at three locations: 17th and M, 14th and Benton, and 70th to the northeast city limits.

Inspector Roscoe Benton, director of the inspection program, said response to the visits by city firemen was good. He noted few objections to firemen entering homes.

Each visit took about 15 minutes, Benton said.

The strictly voluntary program was recommended by the International Association of Fire Chiefs. Lincoln is the only city in the state at the time to put the inspections into action.

Fremont Ups Drive For Industry

It stepped up drive for industry in Fremont. Business and civic leaders, backed by local campaign are elevating industrial prospects and hope to realize several new ones. Fremont is doing its best for industry. Looked at this article, the 10th of a series.

By ROD WENZ

Fremont Guide and Tribune
FREMONT, Neb.—Nebraska's stepped up push for industry has been especially evident in Fremont.

Latest development locally has been disclosed by reliable sources of option on 146 acres just north of Fremont held by Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad for an industrial site. Railroad officials have declined comment.

Fremont Industries, Inc., a civic corporation whose purpose is promotion and development of new industries, has purchased from the city 16 acres of land for an industrial tract. Another 24 acres, in two tracts, is under option to the corporation. All is rail-serviced.

In addition, Union Pacific Railroad recently acquired 70 acres of land designated for use as an industrial site here. The railroad has not revealed exact plans for the site.

Revitalized Site

Fremont Industries and the Chamber of Commerce are heading the local drive for industry. Chamber Secretary-Manager Howard Shinrock, formerly manager of the industrial development of the Omaha Chamber and assistant executive director of Omaha Industrial Foundation, helped organize Fremont's revitalized drive for industry a year ago.

Since then, the two groups have built a confidential file of 18 industrial prospects, with indications several may ultimately be realized. Industry depends on or associated with agriculture is the type chiefly sought here.

A $150,000 plan by a masonry contractor to begin fabrication of steel irrigation well casings and other metal products is the biggest recent expansion by existing industry. Expansion of storage capacity of existing grain elevators and construction of new elevators have brought the grain storage capacity to nearly eight million bushels, about double the local storage capacity of three years ago.

A new $3,500,000 electric power plant capable of producing 16,500 kilowatts will be in service in the spring of 1957 to handle electrical needs of the growing population and increased commercial demands.

Fremont's biggest industry prize in the postwar era has been the acquisition of George A. Hormel and Co. packing plant, which employs an estimated 850.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

Early in the morning, the train crossed the Arizona line into New Mexico. Somebody pushed a gray rug under the door reading "There's an Indian on this train." Immediately I wrapped a pink mat-blanket around me, hell is palm up just like in the movies and opened the door.

"How I said Paleface well he red brother. Paleface come in setting."

"Go make we take the Great Father. I have a lot to talk with Indians men."

"I feel better Red brother" I said, "you happen to know some secret to cure the common cold, do?"

"It ain't no Indian," said the man. "I serve the drinks in the car. The Indian gonna get at Gallup."

Take your choice. Now if you will excuse me, I will go up to the dome car I am part of your Santa Fe service."

A Zuni Indian in colorful native costume will board the train today. Many of the things about this country may puzzle you but they are an open and familiar book to him.

He knows the name of that peak you see from your window the flowering time of that bush, the legend of every rock formation.

"Which bush? Which rock for nation?" I said, peering out the window.

Take your choice. Now if you will excuse me, I will go up to the dome car I am part of your Santa Fe service."

That was the last I saw of the Indian. I looked for him in the dome car. But the steward who had slipped the card under my door said he thought he might be taking a nap.

The Indian guides have to do a lot of sleeping. Answering all the questions was hard. He's mighty good boy. Knows all about his country. Reckon maybe he was born around here or raised, anyhow.

"I sat, yes."

"Do you know all the answers?"

"Certainly. Many of the things about this country may puzzle you but they are an open and familiar book to me. I know the name of that peak you see from your window the flowering time of that bush, the legend of every rock formation."

"Which bush? Which rock for nation?" I said, peering out the window.

While I waited for the Indian, I read the pamphlet handed out to passengers on Santa Fe's Super Chief.

When the train pulled into Gallup I stuck my head out the door.

The Indian was wearing a gray gabardine topcoat. Not very colorful but warm. He carried a tan valise with a gold airplane pin on it.

Hello, Joe," he said to the conductor. "How, red brother," I said. "Paleface come from setting sun to see Great White."

Just a minute," said the Indian. He selected an empty room and when he came out he was in colorful native costume. He wore a red shirt and white pants. A silver concho belt and a headband.

"Now what can I do for you?" he said.

"What do tourists usually ask you?"

For souvenirs," said the Indian promptly. "You'd think we were made of souvenirs. Sometimes they want to buy the clothes right off my back. Have a souvenirs."

He handed me a postcard that said he was Harry War Bow. The other guides working other trains were Conrad Blue Wing, Leslie Young Eagle and Lowell Sun Rise. They all had their pictures on the card in full color.

QUIRKS
Law-Abiding Bandit
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Apr. 17—A man walked into Harry Kemp's grocery store. As he approached Kemp, an automobile horn sounded outside. The man left the store.

Blazing Guns
ALEXANDRIA, Minn., Apr. 17—Three men charged out of the darkened liquor store, pistols blazing. Deputy Sheriff Howard Urness, his father, Sheriff Benny Urness, and younger brother Luther, a special deputy, returned the fire. The three men were wounded and captured. After it was over, all agreed Howard got two of the burglars with one shot. A bullet passed through the shoulder of one and struck another in the same place. The Urnesses were unscathed and the others were not badly hurt.

Law-Abiding Bandit

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — A man walked into Harry Kemp's grocery store. As he approached Kemp, an automobile horn sounded outside. The man left the store, moved his car which was double-parked and blocking traffic. Then he returned, pointed a gun at Kemp and left with $45.

Blazing Guns

ALEXANDRIA, Minn. (UPI) — Three men charged out of the darkened liquor store, pistols blazing. Deputy Sheriff Howard Urness, his father, Sheriff Benny Urness, and younger brother Luther, a special deputy, returned the fire. The three men were wounded and captured. After it was over, all agreed Howard got two of the burglars with one shot. A bullet passed through the shoulder of one and struck another in the same place. The Urnesses were unscathed and the others were not badly hurt.

Answers To Many Questions Start Coming In Today As Majors Open

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Can Brooklyn do it again? Do the New York Yankees outclass the American League? Will Willie Mays beat Babe Ruth's home run record? Did the White Sox Indians trade really help both clubs?

The answers start coming in today when the 16 major league clubs open the season with a smattering of rookies edging into the lineups alongside such big names as Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Yogi Berra and Robin Roberts.

If the weatherman is kind, crowds totalling 250,000 will pack parks from Boston to Milwaukee for the opening of the sport's 154-game spectacular. The general forecast is cloudy, cool with possible scattered showers.

Ike Throws First Ball
President Eisenhower will toss out the first ball at Washington where Chuck Dressen's fuzzy-checked rookies will dare the mighty Yankees. Governors and mayors of all shapes and sizes have been warming up their pitching arms for weeks. Getting ready for the big ceremonies.

Although many rookies were packing their bags over the weekend and heading back to the minors, a baker's dozen or so managed to convince the managers they belonged in the starting lineups.

Perhaps the most highly publicized were second baseman Charlie Neal of Brooklyn, shortstop Jerry Lumpe of the Yanks, shortstop Don Buddin and third baseman Frank Malzone of Boston, shortstop Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox, outfielder Frank Robinson of Cincinnati and catcher Danny Kravitz of Pittsburgh.

Many Nat Rookies
Dressen has so many rookies at Washington that it's hard to find a familiar face. The outfit is all new with Dick Tettelbach and Whitey Herzog of the Yankee farms and Karl Olson of Boston, Lou Berberet, another ex-Yankee farmhand, is Dressen's starting catcher.

The sellout crowd of about 29,000 that will turn out at Griffith Stadium really will need a scorecard to tell the players on the home side. Camilo Pascual, the starting pitcher, will be vaguely familiar off his 2-12 record last season.

Lumpe at shortstop is the only new Yankee in the starting lineup although the bench will include Mickey McDermott, ex-Senator who may pitch the third game of the season. Don Larsen (9-2) is Manager Casey Stengel's opening day pitcher.

To See Trade Results
Chicago fans will get the low down on the big deal with Cleveland on opening day. Chico Car-rasquel and Jim Busby formerly of the White Sox, will be playing for the Indians and Larry Doby, ex-Indian, will be in center with rookie Aparicio at short for the Sox when Bob Lemon (18-10) faces Billy Pierce (15-10). Comisky Park estimated 30,000 customers.

Brooklyn's world champs will be at home for the first half of a twin opening—Tuesday in Brooklyn and Thursday in Jersey City. Neal will be at second and Don Newcombe (20-5) pitching at Eberts Field against the Phillies' Robin Roberts (23-14). It will be the seventh straight opener for Roberts, starting in 1950, tying him with Bobby Feller, Cleveland, among active pitchers.

The Phils are the same ball club with Ted Kazanski, the $100,000 bonus shortstop, now playing second. Dodgers officials expect 25,000 fans.

Chiefs Trade Nordberg For .300 Slugger

Grenald, Mulcahy, Cannon Added As Team Leaves Texas For Topeka

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. — The Lincoln Chiefs wound up spring training here Monday and started the trek to Topeka, Kan. where they will open the 1956 Western League season Thursday night.

Tuesday will be a travel day, with no workouts. But Manager Larry Shepard will add some polishing touches to his club during a drill in Topeka Wednesday afternoon.

Biggest news on the final day in the Huntsville camp involves a trade between Lincoln and Williamsport of the Class A Eastern League.

Chief's General Manager Dick Wagner announced that Bill Nordberg, the right-handed pitcher who won 12 and lost 11 for Lincoln last year and was the only pitcher over .500 except Dick Hall, has been traded to Williamsport for outfielder Reggie Grenald.

Also joining the Lincoln club Monday were right-handed pitcher Tom Mulcahy, optioned to the Chiefs by Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League, and catcher Ed Cannon.

Mulcahy worked three innings against Sam Houston State Sunday and was touched for one run and four hits.

At the same time the A's sent catcher Billy Shantz and outfielder Al Pilarcik to their Columbus farm club in the International League.

The 29-year-old Groth, who bats and throws righthanded, has been in the majors since 1946 playing with Detroit, the old St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox before going to Washington. Last year he hit .254 in 95 games and drove in 28 runs. He will report to Kansas City in time for the opening game at Detroit.

Shantz, 28-year-old brother of A's pitcher Bobby Shantz, has been with the club two seasons. Last year he shared catching duties with Joe Astroth and posted a .258 batting average in 79 games. He was sent down on a 24-hour recall option. His departure leaves the Athletics with catchers Astroth and Joe Ginsberg.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The Kansas City Athletics picked up outfielder Johnny Groth via the waiver route from the Washington Nationals Monday in an attempt to strengthen their outer defenses.

At the same time the A's sent catcher Billy Shantz and outfielder Al Pilarcik to their Columbus farm club in the International League.

The 29-year-old Groth, who bats and throws righthanded, has been in the majors since 1946 playing with Detroit, the old St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox before going to Washington. Lincoln Dog Wins Top Honors In Kansas Show

Fox Fire Scott, Pomeranian, bred and owned by Mrs. Ralph Myers of Lincoln and handled by Erich Hartmann of Lincoln was winner's dog and gained championship points at the Hutchinson, Kan., dog show Sunday.

Meet Postponed
The Lincoln AFB track coach, Tom Gaines, has announced that the track meet originally scheduled for this week with Nebraska Wesleyan University has been rescheduled for later in the month due to a shortage of personnel on the base team.

Cannon, a 6-1 225-pounder, will bolster the Lincoln catching corps. He is coming on option from Havanova of the Class AAA International League but was in spring training with Cincinnati.

Cannon will leave the Redlegs and join the Chiefs in Topeka.

In 1954 Cannon hit .317 to finish second in the Class B Caroline League. He hit 19 doubles, 2 triples and 12 homers in 109 games, and drove in 64 runs.

Philadelphia Wins Irish-Army Game

From Press Dispatches

NEW YORK (INS)—Philadelphia won the coveted renewal of the Army-Notre Dame series in 1957 Monday because the city's Municipal Stadium seats 100,000 compared to the 74,000 capacity of Yankee Stadium.

Major Robert Wagner regretfully announced that his efforts to have New York City restored as the setting for the gridiron classic ended in failure after a meeting with Lt. Gen. Blackshear Bryan, superintendent of West Point, and Yankee General Manager George Weiss.

Bryan told the mayor the capacity difference between the two sites was the decisive factor in the decision, since it would amount to $190,000 in revenue.

The Army-Notre Dame series is being resumed on a home and home basis with the 1958 game set for South Bend, Ind. Originally next year's renewal was scheduled for Michie Stadium at West Point, which has a capacity of 23,500.

In Philadelphia, Robert Crawford, president of the Department of Recreation, said he was not at liberty to divulge the rental for the stadium being charged Army and Notre Dame. However, Army and Navy pay $10,000 for their service classic and Crawford said, "We're giving these teams Army and Notre Dame a better figure than that."

"The rental also gives them the concessions and may also give them the parking. That's something that will have to be worked out later," Crawford said.

Crawford said the city is prepared to give the Army-Notre Dame game the full cooperation that is extended each year to the Army-Navy game. "We really will show these schools Philadelphia hospitality."

11th-Inning Hit Gives Wesleyan 7-6 Victory Over Omaha U

Ray Ulhorn rapped a single for Wesleyan in the 11th inning, scoring teammate Gles Reed from second base, breaking a deadlock with Omaha U. and giving the home team a 7-6 win on the Plainsman diamond Monday.

Reed got on base with a single, stole second and then scooted home with the winning run on Ulhorn's bunt.

Wesleyan had to come from behind for the victory. Dick Evanson walked the first batter and hit the second and during the shaky first inning Omaha scored three runs.

But Evanson settled down and limited the visitors to nine hits in the game.

Wesleyan's big inning was the sixth, when they scored five runs. Bobby Daniels, centerfielder for the Plainsmen, blasted a four-run homer which pushed Wesleyan ahead, 5-3.

Omaha fought back with three more runs in the seventh, but the Plainsmen knotted the score again, 6-6, in the ninth inning to send the game into extra frames.

Davis Bound Over On Decatur Robbery Charge

Bond Set
At $10,000

OMAHA (AP) — Clifford Harold Davis, 30, Omaha, was bound over to Federal District Court Monday on a charge of bank robbery.

Davis is accused of the April 7 holdup of the Citizens State Bank at Decatur, Neb., in which $6,830 was taken.

U.S. Commissioner A. Z. Donato set Davis's bond at $10,000 following the preliminary hearing.

Rita Loraine Qulin, about 35, Des Moines, was bound over Friday charged as an accessory. Her bond of $7,500 was continued.

Officials Testify

H. C. Larson, bank vice president, and Hayne A. Thompson, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent at Sioux City, Ia., testified at Monday's hearing.

Larson told how the robber, masked only by piece of adding machine paper taped across his upper lip, greeted him with leveled pistol when he opened the bank at 7:45 a.m.

He related how other employees of his son and D. Roy Way, bank president, were made to lie face down behind the counter when entering later.

Threatening'

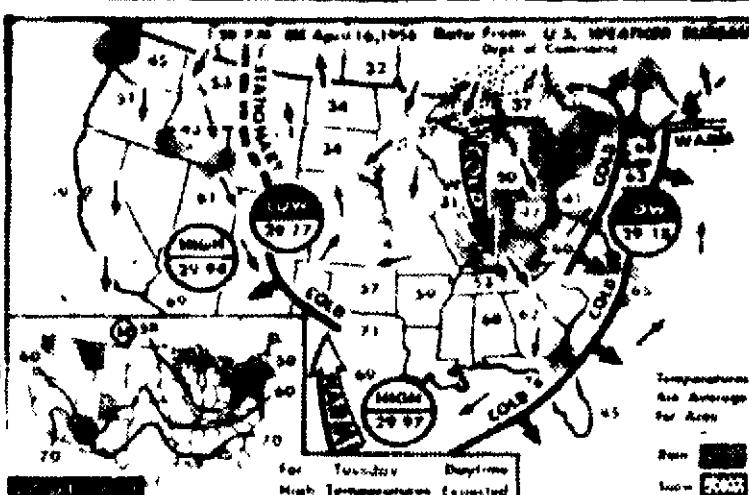

"I'll say this much," Larson said, "he wasn't rough but he was threatening."

Thompson said Davis sauntered out of the brush beside a road nine miles southeast of Decatur at 3:45 p.m. the same day carrying a sack.

The agent said he frisked Davis and asked him where he put the bank's money.

Davis replied that it was in the sack, "Thompson said.

"I asked him how he got into the bank, and he told me through the ceiling," Thompson said.

Davis Bound Over On Decatur Robbery Charge

Bond Set
At $10,000

OMAHA — Clifford Harold Davis, 30, Omaha, was bound over to Federal District Court Monday on a charge of bank robbery.

Davis is accused of the April 7 holdup of the Citizens State Bank at Decatur, Neb., in which $6,830 was taken.

U.S. Commissioner A. Z. Donato set Davis's bond at $10,000 following a preliminary hearing.

Rita Lorraine Quinn, about 35, Des Moines, was bound over Friday charged as an accessory. Her bond of $7,500 was continued.

Officials Testify

H. C. Larson, bank vice president, and Hayne A. Thompson, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent at Sioux City, Ia., testified at Monday's hearing.

Larson told how the robber, masked only by a piece of adding machine paper taped across his upper lip, greeted him with a leveled pistol when he opened the bank at 7:45 a.m.

He related how other employees, his son and D. Roy Way, bank president, were made to lie face down behind the counter when entering later.

'Threatening'

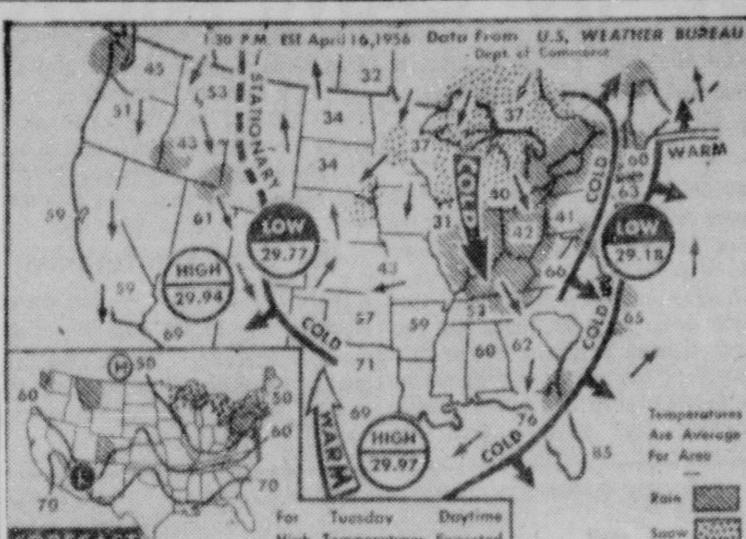

"I'll say this much," Larson said, "he wasn't rough but he was threatening."

Thompson said Davis sauntered out of the brush beside a road nine miles southeast of Decatur at 3:45 p.m. the same day carrying a sack.

The agent said he frisked Davis and asked him "where he put the bank's money."

Davis replied that it was in the sack, Thompson said.

"I asked him how he got into the bank, and he told me through the ceiling," Thompson said.

Discussions, Demonstrations Dominate State Fire School

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — Group instruction classes, panel discussions and demonstrations of new fire control techniques dominated the program Monday at the 19th annual Nebraska State Fire School.

About 1,000 volunteer and professional fire fighters attended opening activities of the three-day meeting Sunday.

Federal Civil Defense officials supervised demonstrations in mass feeding operations at noon Monday. The annual Nebraska Fire Chiefs Assn. banquet was held Monday evening.

Chief R. V. Evans of the Grand Island Fire Department conducted opening ceremonies, with city and Chamber of Commerce officials participating.

Disasters Related

Featured speaker was Kyle Laughlin, fire research specialist from Battle Creek, Mich. He spoke on "hurricanes and floods, a major disaster in the eastern United States."

Laughlin told the firemen that regardless of the cause, the responsibility in time of disaster lies with the volunteer fire department. The volunteer department's responsibility, he said, went beyond regular fire fighting operations and included the prevention of panic and aid in organizing relief work.

Emmett T. Cox, senior field representative for the Western Actuarial Bureau, Chicago, told the group that the safety of the entire community depended on the fire department in time of emergency and disaster.

Officials of the Nebraska League of Municipalities attended Al Wurst, secretary, donated $200 to the fire school.

Surviving are his wife, Polly; a son, Ira of Milford; three grandchildren; three great grand children; two brothers, Peter and the Rev. Lee Schlegel, both of Milford; and three sisters, Mrs. Anna Roth of Milford, Mrs. Lena Kremer of South Dakota and Mrs. Mary Erb of Albany, Ore.

Sander Debus Dies; Baking Company Head

HASTINGS, Neb. — Sander Debus, 66, president of the Debus Baking Co. of Hastings, died in Gothenburg Monday.

Debus, a native of Russia who became a leader in his field, suffered a stroke while preparing his cabin near Gothenburg for the summer.

Debus started in the baking business at Lincoln, in 1911, established a bakery at Exeter which still bears his name, and came to Hastings in 1923.

An ultra-modern bakery built in 1953 uses a system of operation designed by Debus and much equipment of his design.

Mrs. Debus, three married daughters and one son survive. Funeral services will be Wednesday afternoon at Hastings.

Nebraska Welfare Group Re-Elects Okura President

OMAHA — K. Patrick Okura, staff psychologist at Boys Town, was re-elected president of the Nebraska Welfare Assn.

The association met in connection with the Midwest Regional Conference of the Child Welfare League of America.

Other officers: Dr. E. Glenn Callen, Lincoln, first vice president; Frank Wood, Lincoln, second vice president; Anna Smrha, Lincoln, treasurer, and W. H. Hobson, Omaha, secretary.

Elected to the executive council were Lucia Brinkman, Hastings; Richard Guilford, Lincoln; Mrs. Ona Aplan, Grand Island; Amy Hanson, Lincoln, and Hobson.

Painting Said Good Substitute For Travels

HASTINGS, Neb. — Amateur painter Henry Krieger of Hastings, to the casual observer, would appear to be the type of man who takes off for far away places to get his ideas for paintings.

Krieger has a wide range of outdoor paintings — ranging from the fabled Swiss Alps to familiar Nebraska scenes — among his 75 oil paintings.

But Krieger, who has lived in Hastings most of his life, admits he hasn't seen too much of the world.

"Many of my pictures," he explains, "were taken from other paintings of places I think I would like to visit. I also use my memory and imagination. Many of them I have never seen, nor do I ever expect to. Painting is an excellent substitute."

The artist, who retired from the Railway Express Agency five years ago after 43 years of service, got his start 50 years ago when he was a cartoonist. It was just a start, though. Not until his retirement did Krieger take up his present "hobby."

Then he took his only formal training, a summer course at Hastings College. He teamed up with a daughter, Mrs. Leonard Heill, who previously had studied art in college and had taught the subject.

As years go by, Krieger continues to paint, and his work is finding its way into galleries and homes throughout the country.

Guided By Demos

Backers of the vetoed farm bill, guided through Congress by the support of some farm belt Republicans, contend it would have offered farmers an estimated two billion dollars more in benefits this year, including 90 per cent of parity for basic crops. These crops are issued a statement saying Eisenhower "has stabbed the farmers in the back."

The House heard the President's veto message in silence. But there was a burst of applause from Republican members when the clerk finished reading it.

On Capitol Hill, the consensus was that the veto could not be overridden and there would be no general farm bill enacted in this election year. It requires two-thirds majorities in both Houses of Congress to override a veto.

Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, the two announced candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, are both on record in favor of the bill. They urged Eisenhower last week to sign it.

Important Role

Democrats have vowed repeatedly to take the issue into the upcoming presidential and congressional campaigns if Eisenhower refused to accept the bill. It is bound to play an important part in the struggle for the farm vote.

An angry debate broke out almost immediately in the Senate with Sen. Ellender (D-La.) asserting Eisenhower "did not know what was in that bill."

"He was too busily engaged in playing golf at Augusta," said Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, defended the President and said, "I do not believe anyone in the country believes that President Eisenhower desires to see farm income go down."

"Honest Difference"

There was "an honest difference of opinion" over how to help the farmers, Knowland said, and "only time will tell" which group was right.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC)

said, "The support price of manufacturing milk will be increased to 34 cents a pound."

Manufacturing milk, now supported at about $1.15 a hundred pounds, is that used in making butter, cheese, ice cream and other manufactured dairy products.

The White House said Eisenhower's proposed steps would bring wheat to 84 per cent of parity, corn to 86 per cent and rice to 83 per cent, compared with 76, 81 and 75 per cent, the previously announced levels for this growing year.

It was estimated the boosts would give farmers about 170 million dollars more in benefits for wheat, 300 million more for corn, 18 million more for rice and about 120 million more for manufacturing milk.

With the exception of milk, however, the benefits would still be lower than the government payments or last year.

Eisenhower promised to use more than 400 million dollars to production of crops now in surplus to strengthen the prices of perishable farm commodities — principally meat, eggs and fruits — this year. Several months ago the government launched a $5 million dollar pork buying program to bolster the price of hogs.

A major administration plan that went down with the farm bill was the soil bank program. Under this, farmers would have received up to $1,200,000,000 a year for withdrawing their acreage from the production of crops now in surplus.

"I now request Congress to pass a straight soil bank bill as promptly as possible," Eisenhower said. "It should be in operation before fall seeding for next year's crops.

TODAY'S BIG SPECIAL

at a price that will open your eyes
(and Purse)

If you're in the market for a real buy, take a good look at this one.

It's a 1956 Buick SPECIAL—which means, of course, it's a big car.

But look again at the price news it carries.

It tells you this big Buick SPECIAL can be yours for only a few dollars more than the price of the well-known smaller cars—for even less than some models of those very same cars. (And the price we'll show you proves how true that is.)

The gospel truth is—this brawny new beauty is the biggest bundle of high style and hot performance ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Even that, though, doesn't completely explain why Buick outsells every car in America except the two well-known smaller ones.

To understand the big reason, you've got to know something about how much more pure automobile you get for your money in a 1956 Buick—

The extra satisfaction of commanding Buick's walloping new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine—

The extra joy and comfort of Buick's new buoyant ride, Buick's matchless new handling ease, Buick's extra solidity of structure—

The extra thrill that comes from the world's most modern transmission. For, at your option, you can also have the new double-action take-off—and the extra gas-saving mileage—of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.†

Those are some of the things we'd like you to know, firsthand, about the 1956 Buick. And we'll let the car itself—and that low price tag—do the talking. Will you come in—real soon—this week maybe?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.†

issued a statement saying Eisenhower "has stabbed the farmers in the back."

There were some Republicans among those who voted for the bill who felt the veto was softened by the President's new proposals to boost farm income.

In his message to the House, where the bill originated, the President said it was "with intense disappointment and regret" that he vetoed the legislation.

He said the farmers "had a right to expect workable and effective legislation to help solve their problems" but that "this bill does not meet their needs."

Major Headache

At a time when surpluses are the major farm headache, the President would create more surpluses, the President said, adding:

"To return now to wartime 90 per cent supports would be wrong. Production would be stimulated. Markets would be further depressed, instead of expanded, as must be done."

$2 for Wheat

Eisenhower said the administration intends to set minimum support levels which will result in a national average of $2 a bushel for wheat, $1.50 a bushel for corn and $4.50 per hundred pounds for peanuts have not yet been announced, but the President said they will be at least 82½ per cent of parity. Parity is a price deemed fair to the farmers in terms of production costs. It is computed by the Agriculture Department according to formulas set up by law.

"For this year" Eisenhower said, "the support price of manufacturing milk will be increased to 58.6 cents a pound."

Manufacturing milk, now supported at about $3.15 a hundred pounds, is that used in making butter, cheese, ice cream and other manufactured dairy products.

The White House said Eisenhower's proposed steps would bring wheat to 84 per cent of parity, corn to 86 per cent and rice to 83 per cent, compared with 76, 81 and 75 per cent, the previously announced levels for this growing year.

But look again at the price news it carries.

It tells you this big Buick SPECIAL can be yours for only a few dollars more than the price of the well-known smaller cars—for even less than some models of those very same cars. (And the price we'll show you proves how true that is.)

The gospel truth is—this brawny new beauty is the biggest bundle of high style and hot performance ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Even that, though, doesn't completely explain why Buick outsells every car in America except the two well-known smaller ones.

To understand the big reason, you've got to know something about how much more pure automobile you get for your money in a 1956 Buick.

The extra satisfaction of commanding Buick's wallop new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine—

The extra joy and comfort of Buick's new buoyant ride, Buick's matchless new handling ease, Buick's extra solidity of structure—

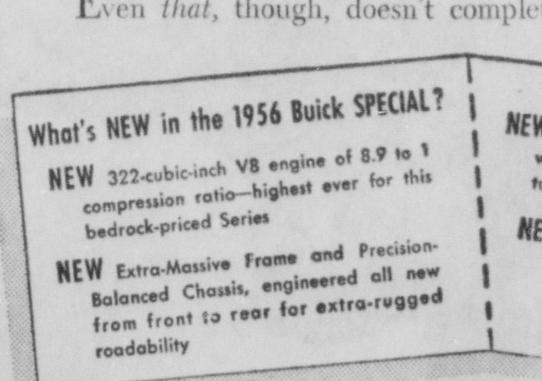

The extra thrill that comes from the world's most modern transmission. For, at your option, you can also have the new double-action take-off—and the extra gas-saving mileage—of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

Those are some of the things we'd like you to know, firsthand, about the 1956 Buick. And we'll let the car itself—and that low price tag—do the talking. Will you come in—real soon—this week maybe?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

... Statements Show Mixed Feelings

Nebraska farm spokesmen greeted the farm bill veto by President Eisenhower with mixed feelings.

But regret was more in evidence than approval.

Congressman Phil Weaver, Rep., 1st District, said "the veto comes as a great disappointment. The bill would have brought a measure of fairness to our farm families; it would have helped at least to some extent bring the income of the farmer in line with other segments of our economy."

In a more restrained comment Sen. Carl Curtis observed that the "effect of not having the new legislation will not be so severe if crops are good and prices rise." But Curtis predicted that if drought conditions persist and prices fall to a low point the veto "will not be good."

Curtis, like Weaver, voted for passage of the farm bill.

Protest Predicted

Senator Roman Hruska, who voted against the measure, said "loud voices will be raised in protest" over the presidential veto.

"The immediate effect," he said, "would not be very salutary on the administration, but as time goes on and people realize what it is I don't believe it will be very serious for the Republican party."

Both Rep. A. L. Miller and Rep. Robert Harrison said they would not vote to override the veto. Miller told The Star he was "sorry the President did not consult with those on the other side" before vetoing the measure. Harrison said the veto showed an administration conviction that the objectionable features of the bill far outweighed acceptable ones.

Dr. J. Clyde Filler, master of the Nebraska Grange termed the veto "regrettable."

"It was not a perfect bill. But it was one that would do more good than harm. And it was needed," Filler said.

Marshall Supports Veto

Full support of the President's veto was accorded by Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation who described the bill as a political one "with everything in it but the kitchen sink. It is part drought relief, part farm program, and part pet ideas of individual congressmen."

Loss of the bill's provision for domestic parity and a wheat soil bank brought disappointment to Nebraska wheat growers.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Labor columnist Victor Riesel, 41, was reported suffering pain Monday and the outcome of the battle to save his sight was said to be "highly uncertain."

Alton Levy, his chief assistant, issued a statement after consulting with three physicians attending Riesel.

"In view of serious complications, the outcome of his sight is highly uncertain," Levy said. "We must again caution against undue optimism at this point."

An unknown assailant threw sulfuric acid into the eyes of the unknown columnist shortly after he left a Broadway restaurant April 5.

ed that the growers aren't going to be permitted to have some voice in the kind of long range program they will operate under. The bill would have given the wheat farmers the right to choose in a referendum between domestic parity or two-price plan and a flexible support plan."

State Agriculture Director Ed Hoyt largely reserved comment.

He did say, however, that in increasing the support prices on wheat and corn "will help the economy of the farmers some on this year's crops."

"We need the soil bank plan to take care of the idle acres," he added.

"We must have something for the acreage we are forced to cut out," he commented.

'WW III Would Start With Sneak Hit At U.S.'

... Gen. Bradley Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley said Monday that if a third world war should start, it would start with an attack on the United States, "very much like the last war started at Pearl Harbor."

Bradley, now retired, said "I hate to identify the likely aggressor but we must admit publicly that Russia is the only power that might start a war."

He appeared before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee which began Monday an investigation of where America stands in air power.

Two Witnesses

Bradley and W. Bedell Smith, another retired general, were the only witnesses the first day. Bradley, a five-star field commander in World War II, served later as Army chief of staff.

Both Bradley and Smith, who was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff in World War II and later was director of the Central Intelligence Agency, spoke for "total" power as a war deterrent, not air power alone.

"Our capacity to avoid war," Smith said, "depends on the total strength of our position."

Nobdy's Picks On Rocky

Bradley said he favored total power on the grounds that "no body goes around picking a fight" with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

The subcommittee is headed by Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), who was secretary of the Air Force under former President Truman and who has often criticized the Eisenhower administration for not building up the strength he considers is needed.

Symington asked Bradley if the United States was not more subject to attack now than ever before.

U.S. 'More Vulnerable'

BULGARIAN PREMIER QUILTS POST

... Too Stalin-Like'

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Vukov Wolf Chervenkov, accused by his Red colleagues of aping Stalin's one-man rule, resigned Monday as premier of Communist Bulgaria.

The Moscow-trained strongman, 35, submitted his resignation at a special session of the Bulgarian Parliament in Sofia.

He is the first high-ranking Communist to hit the skids as a result of the Kremlin's recent campaign against the "personal cult" of Stalinism.

Know Terrorist Methods

A man familiar with terrorist methods, he was an active exponent of the political and economic drive of the Soviet bloc against Yugoslavia that grew out of Stalin's split of 1948 with President Tito—a split the new Russian leadership wants to patch up.

His resignation is a victory for Tito in the matter of personal prestige. And a Yugoslav delegation, by chance or design, was in Sofia for the occasion. The delegation was headed by Moshe Pajade, president of the Yugoslav National Assembly, who is one of Tito's closest advisers.

"It is obvious," Pajade said, "that conditions have been given for the development of friendship and co-operation between Yugoslavia and Bulgaria."

Five-Community Tornado Is Fatal To 22; 200 Hurt

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Twenty-two dead, 200 injured, more than 1,100 homeless and millions in damage is the toll exacted by a devastating tornado.

The devastation centered about McDonald's Chapel, on Birmingham's northwest outskirts and near the steel mills where many of the residents work.

The Red Cross said 166 homes were destroyed, 162 severely damaged and an additional 57 damaged to a lesser degree. The frame homes, many of them built off the ground on brick pillars, were reduced to splinters.

Search for additional victims continued, but no bodies were found. One victim died Monday in a hospital. Sixteen of the dead are Negroes.

Hospitals were jammed with relatives hunting members of their family.

Mrs. Fling Rites Here; Died in N.Y.

Funeral services for Mrs. Helene Dresser Fling, formerly of Lincoln, who died at Port Washington, Long Island, N.Y., will be held in Lincoln.

Services were to be scheduled for Thursday at Westminster Presbyterian Church, with burial at Wyuka, a family friend said.

Mrs. Fling, who died Sunday, was the widow of Dr. Frederick Fling, who was professor of European history at the University of Nebraska. He died some years ago.

Mrs. Fling had been living with her son, Wentworth Fling of New York, for several years.

Grains Up As Ike Raises Supports

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains rallied briskly to close with substantial gains on the Board of Trade Monday. The rally came after an early morning decline of several cents.

It was an erratic market closely tied in with political developments. The news that price supports would be raised on wheat and corn outweighed President Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill as a market influence.

After selling off sharply at the start, prices began a slow climb. This was halted temporarily on the news of the president's farm veto. When other details of the President's message became known, prices continued their climb.

Wheat closed 1 1/2¢ higher, corn 2 1/2¢, soybeans 1 1/2¢ higher and hard red winter 27 cents a hundred pounds higher.

President Eisenhower said he would raise price supports on basic crops except to base them 82½ per cent of parity, an action which has been mentioned as a distinct possibility in these disputes since last Thursday.

The Eisenhower added, would insure national support averages of $2.00 a bushel on wheat and $1.50 a bushel on corn.

This represents a fairly good boost in the price supports already in effect on wheat, corn, beans, oats and rye, which the President did not mention in Monday's message to Congress.

Under the farm bill the President vetoed the supports would have been raised to $2.25 on wheat and $1.64 on corn. The bill also would have hiked supports on oats and rye, which the President did not mention in Monday's message to Congress.

-1955 Report-

3 Lives Lost, Fire Property Loss Heavy

Fires during 1955 claimed three lives in Lincoln and resulted in a total loss of property of $168,789, according to the annual report of the Fire Department.

The report showed a total of 1,417 calls for the department during the year. Based on population of 120,000, loss from fire amounted to $1.40 per capita.

A total of 14,028 fire inspections were made during the year, the report showed.

All hotels, theaters, milling and grain storage companies were inspected. Also, apartment houses, rooming houses, child care center and nursing homes were constantly checked in co-operation with the health and police departments.

The report of television antenna inspection activities showed 2,146 permits issued for antenna installations, $4,292 in permit fees collected, 1,925 antenna inspections and 123 interference complaints investigated.

Electrical Inspector Don Venter reported 5,751 permits issued during the year for electrical work and a total of 8,353 calls and inspections were made.

More Institution Buildings Planned

Board of Control Monday agreed upon a further building program and instructed Engineer Carl Botsford to get architects who could start at once on plans. Botsford said no architect had been decided upon.

Chairman Thomas Dredel of the board said it is planned to build a dormitory and then a school at the Blind. General plans were decided upon at a visit to similar schools in other states.

New cottage-type dormitories are also planned for the Training School for Girls at Geneva.

The board said that beds will be opened in mid-May for a new administration building at the School for the Deaf at Omaha. It will also house kitchen and dining facilities for both students and employees and infirmaries and isolation rooms for students.

Most GOP Leaders Support President's Veto

W A S H I N G T O N — President Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill won apparent majority backing Monday among Republican leaders participating in a party campaign strategy conference.

However, some Republicans were reported to have dissented from the optimistic view expressed by National Chairman Leonard Hall, who said the veto will help the Republicans in November. In another phase of the conference, Robert Humphreys, campaign director for the GOP National Committee, told a news conference the Republicans this year are six months ahead of their 1952 schedule in preparing for the elections.

PICK UP 94 Seats

He said William Warner, director of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee reported there are 94 congressional seats that the Republicans have a chance of picking up in the general election.

Warner said these include 31 seats the Democrats won with a margin of 5 per cent of the vote in 1954 plus 63 seats now held by Democrats in districts Eisenhower carried in 1952.

Hall told newsmen at the conference that Eisenhower was "absolutely right in vetoing the farm bill," a few said Eisenhower did right.

Most Democrats had sharp words of denunciation for the veto but a few said Eisenhower did right.

Seven Face Charges Over Neglected Tots

Contributing To Delinquency Denied

Seven adults, including the parents, were charged Monday morning with contributing to the delinquency of four children taken from their home and transferred Sunday to Cedars Home for Children.

Six of the adults pleaded not guilty in County Court to the charge and were placed under $300 bond by Judge Herbert Ronni for appearance April 30, at 1:30 p.m. All made bond.

The seventh, father of the four children, had a not guilty plea entered for him by the court and likewise was placed under bond.

Innocent pleas were offered by Lyle Collier, 21, of 6740 Platte; James Laws, 33, of 6601 Logan; Fern Oelling, no age given, 100 West P; Fred Egger, 64, 100 West P; Fern Oelling's father, and Harry Bundy, 42, of 100 West P.

An innocent plea was entered for Clyde Logan, 47, of 2337 No. 12. His wife, Rose Logan, 29, also of 2337 No. 12, pleaded not guilty and was placed under $300 bond.

The four Logan children, ages 9, 5, 4 and 2, were placed in Cedars Home for Children early Sunday morning following a complaint to police by an unidentified caller. Policewoman Huda Roper said the children were unfed, dirty, and uncared for.

Six of the adults, not including the mother, were booked in at police headquarters on charges of intoxication. A man and woman were found in one of the back bedrooms, police said.

Mrs. Roper said she will ask action through Juvenile Court to have the children taken from the custody of the parents.

65 Rebels Slain

ALGIERS (INS)—French army headquarters said 65 rebels were killed during weekend battles with French troops. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting in the mountains resulted in the death of 27 nationalistic soldiers.

Council Accepts Kinsey Officially

C. W. D. Kinsey was officially sworn in as a member of the City Council Monday and was given two committee assignments.

Kinsey was appointed to the Traffic Commission and the Capital Street Improvement Committee. He will serve out the remaining 13 months of the term of Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme who has resigned from the Council to run for the Legislature.

Councilman Pat Ash was appointed to Mrs. Orme's spot on the Juvenile Crime Prevention Committee.

Ida Matson Rites To Be At Lincoln

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida A. Matson, 90, of Kansas City Mo., who died there, will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Wadlows, the Rev. J. Saben Swenson officiating.

Burial will be at Wyuka.

Mrs. Matson was born in Sweden. She died Sunday.

Surviving are a son, Carl, one grandchild; and two great grand children.

3 Incorporations

The Denison Midway Operating Co. of Kearney, to operate hotels and cafes, filed incorporation papers with the secretary of state Monday. Authorized capitalization is $5,000. Incorporators were Arthur L. Louis F. and Edward J. Denison. Other filings Cheyenne County Historical Assn. Sidney; Richard D. Herman, resident agent, Nebraska Assn of Pathologists, Omaha; John R. Schenck, Vincent Moragues, Morton H. Kulesh.

bill and will be sustained by the American people."

Later, members of a committee headed by George F. Etzell, Minnesota national committeeman, said the veto will hurt Republican prospects among the farmers in Kansas and South Dakota. Their primary blame for the veto would be placed on Secretary of Agriculture Benson rather than Eisenhower.

Most Democrats had sharp words of denunciation for the veto, but a few said Eisenhower did right.
